CORE SECTOR GROWTH SLOWS TO 14-MONTH LOW IN DEC 2023

Growth of eight key infrastructure industries slipped to 3.8% due to poor performance of crude, steel and cement

LAST REPORTED LOW WAS IN OCT 2022

For December 2022, the growth of the eight core sectors was 7.4%. The last time the growth was so bad was in October 2022, at 0.9%. The eight core sectors are cement, coal, crude oil, electricity, fertilizers, natural gas, refinery products, and steel. The cumulative growth of the key sectors during April-December 2023 was flat at 8.1% versus 8% a year ago

Soren held, new Soren to be CM

Veteran JMM leader and minister Champai Soren set to become new Jharkhand CM

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Wednesday arrested Jharkhand Chief Minister and JMM leader Hemant Soren in connection with a money laundering case, after questioning him for over seven hours at his Ranchi residence. Before the arrest, Soren tendered his resignation to Governor C P Radhakrishnan at the Raj Bhavan, from where he was taken to the ED office for further questioning. He is likely to be produced in court on Thursday.

ED sources said Soren was arrested as he was not cooperating with the investigation and was evasive in his replies.

After Soren's resignation, veteran JMM leader and Jharkhand transport minister Champai Soren met the governor and staked claim to form the new government in the state. He also handed over the letters of support signed by 47 MLAs to the governor. Sources said the MLAs who had accompanied Champai were not allowed inside Raj Bhawan.

With Champai set to become the next CM, this would be for the first time that power will shift out of the Shibu Soren family. Till evening, the expectation among party circles was that Hemant Soren's wife Kalpana would be picked as the next CM. Party sources said rebellion by some JMM members including MLA Sita Soren, the elder daughter-in-law of JMM patriarch Shibu Soren, forced the party to choose another name. Another reason cited is the possible legal complications as the state is headed for Assembly polls in just about one year and by-elections can't be conducted if an assembly seat falls vacant in that period. Therefore, Kalpana Soren may not be able to contest from the Gandey Assembly seat, which fell vacant on December 31, due to legal hurdles.

Champai Soren is a senior JMM leader, popularly known as Jharkhand Tiger. He is also the party vice-president. Champai Soren has been an associate of Shibu Soren and has also took part in the Jharkhand movement. Champai enjoys a high stature in the party and Hemant Soren has been seen touching his feet and taking blessings on public platforms.

Born on 15 September 1978, Champai Soren spent his childhood in Dumka and completed his schooling from a government school. He started his political career after being elected as an Independent MLA in the by-election from Seraikela Assembly seat. Champai was also a Cabinet minister in the Arjun Munda-led BJP-JMM-AJSU government from September 2010 to January 2013.

High Court to hear Soren's plea against ED today

Hemant Soren has moved the Jharkhand HC challenging ED summons, alleging that the agency is misusing its powers. Citing an SC order, the plea also says ED cannot arrest anyone on the basis of 'not cooperating in the investigation'. The case will be heard at 10:30 am on Thursday

Be secular, Siddu tells bureaucrats

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Wednesday directed senior IAS officials to be secular and committed to the principles of the Constitution. Bureaucrats who have no respect for secular and constitutional principles will not be allowed to work in the state, he said.

In his first-ever meeting with district in-charge secretaries here, Siddaramaiah said the officials' experience should help district administrations in reaching government's welfare and development schemes to the people. In some districts, benefits of the guarantee schemes are not reaching beneficiaries because of some technical issues. The officials should help resolve such issues, he added.

The district in-charge secretaries and DCs should work with dedication. "If any issue is not resolved at your level, take it to the chief secretary. You have to take action against officials at the district-level who violate rules. Otherwise, you cannot ensure discipline in work," the CM told them.

The CM sought to know from them whether people's grievances are being addressed without any delay. He asked them if they have visited government schools, colleges, hostels and police stations. P4

Court allows worship of deities in southern cellar of the Gyanvapi

THE Gyanvapi case took a dramatic turn on Wednesday with a Varanasi court allowing worship of deities inside the southern cellar of the mosque by priests named by the Shree Kashi Vishwanath temple trust (SKVTT) board.

District Judge Ajay Krishna Vishvesha passed the order while disposing a plea by Shailendra Kumar Pathak Vyas, the head priest of the Acharya Ved Vyas Peeth temple, seeking the right to worship Goddess Shringar Gauri and other visible and invisible deities in the cellar of the Gyanvapi mosque. The judge directed the administration to make arrangements to start the puja within seven days.

The court will hear the matter again on February 8.

On January 17, the Varanasi District Magistrate was appointed receiver of the cellar by the district court. He took possession on January 23.

Supreme Court lawyer Vishnu Shankar Jain, who represented Vyas in the case, said: "The court has ordered district magistrate/receiver to ensure regular worship of idols inside the southern cellar of the property in dispute by plaintiff and priest assigned by SKVTT board."

Akhlaque Ahmed, the lawyer for the mosque committee, said they will challenge the order in the high court.

Brakes or stoning? Rahul's car damaged

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

The broken rear windshield of Rahul's car in Malda | PTI

THE rear windshield of Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's car was shattered on Wednesday near the Bihar-Bengal border during his Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra. While the Congress attributed it to the application of sudden brakes, the party's Bengal chief Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury blamed it on stone pelting. He was in the car when the incident happened. No one was injured.

The yatra entered Bengal's Malda district on the same day CM Mamata Banerjee blamed the CPI(M) for her party's bitter relations with the Congress. The yatra reached Malda after a roadshow in Katihar, Bihar. After travelling for 38 km in the car with a broken windscreen, Rahul got down at the designated spot and inspected the car.

West Bengal police said the windscreen was smashed in Katihar. "Rahul was travelling in a bus. As part of the party's protocol, the state heads of the party exchanged party flag on the rooftop of the bus. After reaching Bengal, Rahul boarded the car as the road was narrow and the damaged rear windscreen was noticed," said a police officer. Rahul carried on with the yatra perched on top of an open-hood jeep.

PROPOSAL TO DEPLOY SARAS

Arctic ideal for RRI's cosmic dawn study

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

A scientist from Raman Research Institute (RRI), Bengaluru, has found the Arctic region a worthy site for study on the cosmic dawn using an indigenous radio telescope because of its pristine location and radio remoteness.

Cosmic dawn is the period from about 100 million years to one billion years after the Big Bang when the first stars, black holes, and galaxies in the universe were formed.

Research scientist Dr BS Girish, who led India's maiden winter research team to the Arctic, told TNIE that he characterised frequency environment in which RRI-developed SARAS radio telescope operated and found the vicinity in and around Himadri, India's research station in the Arctic, a promising site for deployment. He returned to Bengaluru on January 19.

"Girish's project was to study radio interference levels in the Arctic. The radio frequency interference scenario in Ny-Ålesund (the global research station) in Svalbard, Norway, was sampled at different times of the day," said Saurabh Singh, assistant professor, Astronomy & Astrophysics, RRI. P7

Missing man found living as transgender

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

SIX years after Lakshman Rao went missing from Ijoor police limits in Ramanagara district, a felicitation ceremony video of transgender Neethu Vanajakshi, who participated in a Kannada reality show, Bigg Boss Season 10, helped police solve the case.

Neethu was felicitated by the transgender community in Mysuru. The video went viral soon after the function.

One of the police personnel attached to Ijoor police station, who saw the footage, found the transgender resembling Rao, who had gone missing. He brought it to the notice of his senior officers.

Soon investigations revealed some shocking details — the missing man had transformed himself into a transgender and changed his name to Vijayalakshmi.

During interrogation, it was revealed that Rao fled home as he was in debt due to gambling. P5

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA is all set to launch a Centre of Excellence (CoE) in gaming, a one of its kind, state-of-the-art institution housing a complete ecosystem of hardware and software, which will be a platform for innovators and the government, announced Rural Development and Panchayat Raj and IT-BT Minister Priyank Kharge on Wednesday.

"We will have the most successful CoE in gaming being run from Karnataka. The state will also host a e-gaming summit and developer conference next year," he said at the GAFX-2024 (gaming, animation, visual effects) conference in Bengaluru.

The minister said Karnataka and Bengaluru has everything to become the Animation, Visual Effects, Gaming and Comic (AVGC) capital of India. "The state wants to foster not only innovation, but also creation of intellectual property within the sector so that it attracts more people. It is important for the state to maintain the leadership position and we want to be the AVGC and the creative capital for the country as well," Kharge said.

Promoting the AVGC sector, the minister said it has the potential to create employment across various verticals within the gaming sector. Currently the industry employs close to one lakh people, directly and indirectly. By 2025, it has the potential to go up to 2.5 lakh people, he said. India has close to 1,400 online gaming start-ups and this is steadily growing.

Suggestions from industry proposed during the panel discussions included introducing upskilling programmes, incubation centres and B2B platforms for diverse opportunities.

The government also announced the AVGC-XR policy 3.0 for Karnataka for the industry focusing on six pillars. It aims to address key areas such as infrastructure advancement, talent development, funding mechanisms and regulatory methods to create a robust ecosystem to foster creativity and sustainability.

Responsible gaming to digital detox

While the government aims to promote the industry's growth through the policy and build an ecosystem in Karnataka, Kharge said the government also wants to be responsible. "We want to create awareness on the ills of the sector, be it generative AI, excessive gaming or deep fakes. We will come out with several initiatives such as awareness campaigns on gaming to protect youngsters and enable positive gaming," Kharge said.

The government is also looking at launching a 'digital detox' initiative with the Gaming Federation of India (GFI) and establishing a framework. The effort will also focus on visiting schools and colleges along with mental health practitioners to spread awareness on these issues.

3 water bodies in K'taka get Ramsar status

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change (MoEFCC), on Wednesday announced three sites in Karnataka - Magadi Lake Conservation Reserve, Agnashani Estuary and River and Ankasamudra Bird Conservation Reserve - as Ramsar sites.

The announcement comes two days ahead of World Wetlands Day, along with Karaivetti Bird Sanctuary and Longwood Shola Reserve Forest in Tamil Nadu. With this, India now has 80 sites, and Karnataka has four. Ranghattitu Bird Sanctuary was the first to recieve this status in 2022.

Ramsar sites, form a part of an international network of wetlands which are important for the conservation of global biodiversity for sustaining human life through the maintenance of their ecosystem components, processes and services. Once a site is declared as a Ramsar site, they get international recognition for eco-tourism protection.

Explaining the importance, officials in the environment and forest department told TNIE, "It was a long pending due that has come now. The first proposal was made for Magadi lake, in 2005, where 20 percent of the world's Mangolian Bar Headed Geese migrate to. Later Ankasamudra and Aghanashini were added."

It may be noted that these water bodies are not a part of any traditional forest patches. They are community reserves and locals have been working to protect the water bodies and the species visiting them.

The official added that these sites cannot be protected in isolation. There is a need to also protect other water bodies that support the bird species. Citing the example of Ankasaumdra, the official said, "The migratory birds visit Tungabhadra for breeding. Ankasamudra is the backwaters of Tungabhadra river. Agnashini declaration was a challenge as the region was once proposed to be used for Tadadi port expansion. Now the tourism department is working on making it a eco-tourism destination. We are now proposing to declare Boonal Lake in Kalaburgi, Ghataprabha Bird Sanctuary and Almatti backwaters as Ramsar sites along with the marshes in Mangaluru. We are advising locals not to change the land use and cropping pattern which will effect the bird species," the official added.

Magadi

Magadi Kere Conservation Reserve, spread across 50 HA, and 30kms from Gadag, is accorded with a status of Important Bird Area and is listed as a priority area for conservation in India. It is home to over 166 species of birds, including 35 residential species. The primary land- use activities include grazing, fishing and farming.

Aghanashini

Aghanashini River originates in Western Ghats and flows westwards for 117 km before joining the Arabian sea in Kumta taluk. The brackish water ecosystem of the Estuary extends to 48 sqkms. The site has 84 species of fish, five species of bivalves, and 45 species of mangroves and mangrove associated species. It also supports 117 bird species. The Estuary supports livelihood activities including fishing, agriculture, collection of edible bivalves and crabs, shrimp aquaculture, traditional fish farming in the estuarine rice fields (locally known as gazni rice fields) bivalve shell mining, and salt production.

ANKASAMUDRA

Ankasamudra Bird Conservation Reserve, located in Hagaribommanahalli Taluk of Vijayanagara District, is 40kms from Hampi. It is an ecologically important man-made wetland, rich in biodiversity, comprising of about 210 species of plants, 8 species of mammals, 25 species of reptiles, 240 species of birds, 41 species of fishes, 3 species of frogs, 27 species of butterflies and 32 species of odonata.

Govt releases toolkit and manual for Green Index

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FOREST, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar Khandre on Wednesday released a toolkit and manual for Green Index, a method to evaluate, analyse and rank environment conservation initiatives of various infrastructure projects and programmes.

Khandre said in the next step, the Green Index portal will be launched.

The index will assess how much recycled materials are used for construction, energy efficiency of sites, energy saved and the implications of infrastructure projects. The same information will also be uploaded on the portal for people to give feedback.

An official from the environment department said based on the measures taken like waste water treatment, use of recycled materials, pollution control, sustainable development, carbon emissions and disaster management, grading will be given in categories — red, orange, light green and dark green (most polluting to least polluting and score 1-4).

The official added that the grading will be for projects and constructions taken up by government and private firms.

New frog species found in B'luru's Rajankunte

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

A TEAM of six researchers has discovered another new frog species in the city. The species, Sphaerotheca varshaabhu, was found at Budumanahalli near Rajankunte.

The team said this discovery marks a significant milestone in biodiversity research and underscores the resilience of wildlife in the unexpected urban ecosystem. An article on this frog species was published in the international journal, Zootaxa, on Wednesday.

The team noted that earlier in 2020, a new species of burrowing frog named after Bengaluru city, Sphaerotheca bengaluru, was found in the same area.

Chetan Nag, KS, associate professor, Centre for Urban Ecology, Biodiversity, Evolution and Climate Change (CUBEC), Jain University, one of the researchers, told TNIE that the new species was found in a pond. "This new species is a burrow frog. It lives underground and comes up when rainwater moistens the land and water seeps in. These frogs then realise it is monsoon and they come out. It was during such a time, we found this species last year. It was published on January 31. There are many such species found throughout the year. But they are ignored in urban landscapes. People tend to ignore them in the city. We do not know how many more are there," he said.

The discovery of the new species is an outcome of multi-institutional collaboration by Mount Carmel College, Zoological Survey of India (ZSI), Western Regional Centre (WRC), Pune; Jain (Deemed-to-be-University), Bengaluru; Institute of Systematics, Evolution, Biodiversity, National Museum of Natural History, CNRS, Sorbonne University, Paris, France; Centre for Ecological Sciences, Indian Institute of Science, Bengaluru; Laboratory of Animal Behaviour and Conservation, College of Biology and the Environment, Nanjing Forestry University, Jiangsu, China; and Genetics Research Laboratory, Department of Zoology, Yuvaraja College, the University of Mysore.

The researchers said that this calls for a relook at the planning and methods of urbanisation in Bengaluru. The lakes, which are considered dry and dead, are not actually so. It's a natural cycle of them drying up during summer and reviving in monsoon.

Sphaerotheca varshaabhu has adapted to its urban surroundings in surprising ways, displaying behaviours and physical attributes that enable it to navigate the challenges posed by urbanisation.

01ST February : Every day our measurements of the size of the universe get bigger - and bigger. But that might be because the universe is growing larger every minute. Or, at least, that's what we now think is happening. What's more, according to the latest research, the universe will continue to expand for ever and ever. Without end!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Many times you have earned the admiration of those who matter most by steadfastly refusing ever to buckle under the strain. Now you can rest on your laurels and relish the fruits of your success. On the whole, this looks like a smooth moment for love, although bear in mind that if you don't take a chance now, you may not have a second opportunity.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
If partners or close companions are currently disagreeable, they will not remain so for long. You will win them over through the sheer power of your quite extraordinary charm. Put some distance between you and stressful situations, just enough to protect your sensitive soul.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Associates may not share all your aspirations, so do be prepared for negative responses and stony silences. Perhaps there is something missing in your presentation. A lack of tact, maybe? Still, however blunt you are, partners will be even more so!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Nobody can question your devotion and loyalty. However, you are likely to over-dramatise the most ordinary events and see offence where none was intended. Try and cultivate a relaxed, even frivolous, outlook. That way you'll be in a much better spirit to cope with partners when they become over-stressed.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Although there are a number of reassuring aspects this week, you must still face up to certain onerous duties. Thus a buoyant mood will be kept in check by the realisation that your routine must be adhered to. For all creative and romantic Leos, new volcanic passions are about to stir.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You are probably right to refuse to be rushed, or forced to sign on the dotted line. You cannot make a firm commitment unless you are completely sure that other people hold your interests as dear as their own. You will soon find out that a rival is right, by the way, so be ready to back down if you have to.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Once again, you are being urged to devote all your time and energy to fulfilling your vision of a better life, even though you may be distracted by a mixture of financial worry and emotional uncertainty. In affairs of the heart, take it easy and play it cool

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Common sense and sound principles must soon finally convince you that you will have to fight for the truth. Yet keep it in mind that other people are not being wilfully obstructive. They just don't have your breadth of vision. You will soon have to decide whether to confront a partner or leave well alone.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Like many people at the moment, you must stagger your workload if you are not to be snowed under. You would do well to delegate any tasks at home or at work to people who have the skill and experience to complete them on your behalf - if such people exist, that is!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Now that the planets have abandoned that area of your chart ruling domestic matters, concentrate on what is taking place on the home front. The point is that you are now in the driving seat. Yet you still have your doubts, so don't act until you're absolutely ready.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You may begin to feel that it is pointless going over any more old ground or churning yourself up emotionally for the sake of people who clearly do not value your remarkable gifts. Stick up for yourself for a change and don't let other people walk on your interests, even if they think they do have the right.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
In the past you may have been able to turn a blind eye, but now you cannot avoid facing up to situations which affect your domestic life. Decisive action is what is required, and you will let yourself down if you delay. Colleagues expect you to be up on the facts, so you'd better know what you're talking about!

KANNADA BILL RETURNED, NOT REJECTED, SAYS RAJ BHAVAN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Raj Bhavan on Wednesday clarified that the ordinance to make it mandatory for commercial establishments to have 60% Kannada on signboards was not rejected, but returned to the government with advice to present the Bill in the state legislature for approval.

Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar urged Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot to reconsider his decision, while Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said the Bill will be passed in the session. The Governor has not rejected, but only returned the ordinance to the state government with advice to present the Bill before both Houses of the state legislature for approval since the notification for summoning both Houses has already been issued, said a statement issued by R Prabhu Shankar, Special Secretary to the Governor.

While the CM and Kannada and Culture Minister Shivaraj Tangadagi said they would place the Bill and get it approved in the session that will start on February 12, the DCM urged the Governor to reconsider his decision on the ordinance. "Language is an emotional issue for Kannadigas. Neither the citizens nor any political party has raised any concern regarding the Ordinance, and hence, I appeal to him to reconsider Ordinance once again," the DCM said.

Shivakumar said the Governor should have signed it without waiting for the Assembly session. "I don't know why the Governor has sent the Ordinance back, which mandates 60% Kannada in name boards without signing. The Governor should have signed it without waiting for the Assembly session," he said.

Shivakumar said the Ordinance was to protect Kannada, culture, and pride, and the government decided to pass an Ordinance in view of protests by pro-Kannada activists.

"In view of the rejection of the Ordinance, we have decided to introduce a bill on this in the upcoming Assembly session. The session will start in about 10-15 days and this bill will be tabled," the DCM said.

Tangadagi said there was no political reason and the Governor sent back the ordinance as the session date was fixed. The minister said they had sent the Ordinance before the session date was fixed, but since the Governor was unwell and also was out of town, there was a delay in signing it. Now it will be tabled in the session, he said.

CASTE CENSUS MAY BE OUT SOON; BC PANEL CHIEF'S TERM EXTENDED

Report may not be tabled before the state legislature

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE government issued an order extending the tenure of Karnataka State Backward Classes Commission Chairman Jayaprakash Hegde and five other members for another month from February 1 to February 29. The decision has been taken following Hegde's request as the commission was vetting the controversial socio-economic caste survey report to be presented to the government, sources said.

Hegde's tenure had come to an end in November and the Congress government, led by Siddaramaiah, had extended it up to to January 1. Siddaramaiah had said the government will accept the report, but it was opposed by Veerashaiva Lingayat and Vokkaliga communities.

On January 28, Siddaramaiah at the 'Shoshitara Samavesha' held in Chitradurga had reiterated that the government will accept the report. JDS state president HD Kumaraswamy had challenged the government to accept the report.

Now, it is to be seen whether the government will accept the report before February 29 when Hegde's extended term ends. "Even if the government accepts the report, it may not table at the legislature or release it in public domain as it may boomerang on Congress ahead of the Lok Sabha elections," an analyst said.

Final touches

Hegde too expressed confidence that he will present the report to the government. "We have analysed the survey report and will give it final touches before sending it to final print," he said.

"We have extended the commission's tenure based on Hegde's request. Shouldn't a commission chairman be given time as he has sought," Backward Classes Department Minister Shivaraj Tangadagi said. "Let the commission submit the report first, then Siddaramaiah will decide whether to table it in the legislature, " he added.

The Siddaramaiah government in its first tenure had initiated the survey, while then commission chairman Kantharaju completed the process in 2018. But he could not submit it to the government as the member secretary of the commission did not sign it.

The present government has also deferred accepting the report as certain original worksheets have reportedly gone missing.

INCIDENT MUST NOT CAST SHADOW ON SHIVARATHRI: PANCHAYAT MEMBER

Keragodu Panchayat member Shivanand, supported by Congress, on Wednesday urged the district administration to hold a peace meeting to bring back harmony as the village is planning a grand Shivarathri. He said they always celebrate Shivarthri in a grand manner and this incident should not cast a shadow over it. The request to put up a flagpost came before the panchayat and it was approved unanimously at the meeting. The panchayat chief executive officer came to the village after the flag was hoisted, and the members told her that the panchayat had cleared the villagers' request, he narrated. Though members sought a week to hold a peace meeting, she did not give time and asked them about the need to bring down the flag on a holiday, he said.

Hoist Hanuman flag on all homes in Keragodu, other villages: BJP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

BJP is planning to organise people in Keragodu village of Mandya district against the ruling Congress for bringing down the Hanuman flag that led to a controversy. The saffron party also exhorted the villagers at Keragodu and a dozen villages around it to hoist Hanuman flags on all their houses.

Though many houses are already flying the flag, BJP wants all of them to do it "to send out a message to the government".

On Wednesday, a delegation of saffron party leaders visited the village and interacted with those injured in the lathicharge. They held a meeting with village headmen and panchayat members to plan the next course of the agitation.

The BJP delegation comprising district party president Indresh, leaders Ashok Jayaram and others criticised the police for picking up a ninth standard student, a minor, for interrogation for damaging the publicity material of Congress leaders during the protest.

When the team reached the boy's house, his father Papanna closed the door and requested the leaders to leave, saying the family is not interested in politics. Indresh consoled him and assured the family that they would stand by them.

He alleged that the police have created a fear among innocent villagers.

Ashok Jairam said they heard the villagers, panchayat members and Gowrishankar Seva Trust members. He alleged that the police misbehaved inhumanly with the villagers, while officers have not had time to hold a peace meeting in the village. The Congress government has turned into a British Raj, picking a minor boy for interrogation in the early hours, worrying women and children, he added.

Gowrishankara Seva Trust member Anand said all the residents of the village had supported hoisting Hanuman flag on the 108 ft flagpost, but a few vested interests are dividing people. The district administration violated the flag code by hoisting a national flag disproportionate to the size of the flagpole, he added. "We had taken Siddaramaiah in a procession of 101 bullocks to inaugurate the Kannada Rajyotsava celebration in Keragodu. But he has forgotten Keragodu. The district administration should hold peace meetings and set right the lapses. We want the case to be handed over to the CBI. We want Justice and peace," he added.

Congress, BJP lock horns over guarantees; Siddu, DKS douse fire

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE ruling Congress and opposition BJP have been sparring over the five guarantees rolled out by the Grand Old Party, ahead of the Lok Sabha polls, with Magadi Congress MLA HC Balakrishna sparking a controversy, after he reportedly stated that "if the Congress does not get more seats, it is better to stop its guarantees".

Going into damage control mode, both Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar intervened and clarified that the government will never stop the guarantees, which will continue for five years. "The guarantees are meant for the poor and will never be stopped, but will be implemented more effectively," Siddaramaiah said.

"Even after the five guarantees are given to the people of the state, if the Congress does not get more seats in the Lok Sabha election, it is better to cancel them. I have also told Chief Minister Siddaramaiah about this," Balakrishna had stated on Tuesday. At a public meeting in Magadi, he elicited the people's response on whether they needed guarantees to be continued, or the 'akshata' (sacred rice grains) of the BJP distributed during the consecration of Ram temple at Ayodhya.

Meanwhile, on Wednesday, Balakrishna claimed that his intention "was not to blackmail people, but to put forth the reality before the people as to why they must vote for the Congress". "The outcome of the LS polls will mirror the effectiveness of the guarantees, as the people have voted for 'mantrakshate' or guarantees," he stated.

Backward Classes Minister Shivaraj Tangadagi defended Balakrishna, stating that the people of the state have realised that 'akshata' will not fill their empty stomachs.

Slamming Congress and the ministers for their remarks, BJP state president BY Vijayendra said, "Shame on the Congress leaders, who have been blackmailing the people. It's been eight months since they came to power, and not even a single new scheme has been implemented. The people have come onto the streets."

Former DCM Dr CN Ashwathnarayana said the CM, DCM and Congress leaders have not been funding the guarantees from their pockets, rather it is public money that is being spent.

Now, an app to track scheme implementation

ENS @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah launched Pragathi, a mobile app that will help track development and implementation of government schemes in various department at every taluk.

According to a release shared by the Chief Minister's Office, since every department operates various institutions such as hostels, health centres, anganawadis, schools, etc. there is, however, no mechanism in place to collect data of visits by officers to these institutions. The app is expected to streamline this.

Pragathi will help schedule routine inspections for district and taluk-level officers of the department. It will also help assign inter-departmental inspections based on complaints and issues noticed and reported.

Future plans

Linking Pragathi with public grievance application e-Spandana, where complaints received from the public can be assigned to concerned officers

Providing inspection details link on the district website/public domain

Automating the routine inspection process

There will be a centralised reporting system. "With this app, officers will visit institutions regularly, as per an assigned schedule and will learn about the issues and address and resolve them. Senior officials can also keep a track of the officers' visits to various institutions and review issues if any on a monthly basis," it said.

BJP-JDS alliance will win all 28 LS seats, says BYV

ENS @ Chikkamagaluru

EXUDING confidence ahead of the Lok Sabha polls, BJP state president BY Vijayendra has predicted that the BJP-JDS alliance will win all the 28 seats in the election, with the Congress drawing a blank.

Speaking at a function at the party office here, where Devaraja Shetty took charge as the new Chikkamagaluru district BJP president on Wednesday, Vijayendra said the Congress is living in false hope that it will win 20 Lok Sabha seats in the state. "If one looks at the statement of Magadi MLA HC Balakrishna, who said that the five guarantees will be stopped if voters do not ensure the victory of Congress candidates in the LS polls, it seems that the Congress has already accepted its defeat. People are eager to see Narendra Modi as the prime minister again. Development works of the Modi government are giving sleepless nights to Congress leaders," Vijayendra said.

Admitting that the BJP suffered a setback in the Assembly polls due to its own mistakes, the party state chief expressed confidence that the BJP will romp home to power by winning 130 to 140 seats in the next Assembly election. "The state is reeling under drought. Over 500 farmers have committed suicide. But the state government has not come out with any scheme to bail out the farmers. It is only dangling a carrot in the name of guarantees in front of the people," he said.

Leader of the Opposition R Ashoka alleged that CM Siddaramaiah was playing divisive politics by causing fissures among castes. "He hates saffron colour. Siddaramaiah may have Rama in his name, but he has Tipu in his heart," he claimed.

HC stays action on FIR against Sulibele

ENS @ Kalaburagi

THE Kalaburagi bench of Karnataka High Court stayed action on the FIR filed against right wing activist Chakravarti Sulibele, in connection with his speech made at Sirwar in Raichur district recently.

Kalaburagi district unit president of Congress Jagadev Guttedar had filed a complaint against right wing activist Chakravarti Sulibele at Bramhapur police station in Kalaburagi recently. He alleged that Sulibele made insulting remarks in his speech in a programme organised by NAMO Brigade at Sirwar of Raichur district recently.

High Court judge Justice Rajendra Badamikar who heard the petition, stayed further proceedings on the FIRst Berhampur police station on Tuesday and issued notice to the concerned.

Sulibele tweeted on Wednesday that the Kalaburagi district Congress president filed a politically motivated false criminal case FIR against him on behest of Mallikarjun Kharge with the allegations of SC/ST Atrocities Act and some provisions of Indian Penal Code for calling him as "Ayogya" in a public function.

Won't stop guarantees: CM

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah said that his government will not stop the five guarantee schemes. They are for the poor and the downtrodden. He was replying to reporters' query on Magadi MLA Balakrishna, who had stated that if people did not vote for the Congress, the guarantee schemes will be stopped.

The state government will hold its second Janaspandana programme on February 8. In this regard, the CM directed the officials to clear the petitions received from the people during the first Janaspandana programme. Action will be taken if they fail to clear the applications, he warned the officials.

CM's ADVICE TO DISTRICT IN-CHARGE SECRETARIES

- Attend legislative sessions without fail and provide answers to questions
- Immediately resolve issues such as non-availability of buses in rural areas
- Take steps to prevent man-animal conflict
- Ensure adequate fodder for cattle
- Gear up to tackle summer-related problems
- Visit your districts twice a month

No bail for GST scam kingpin

ENS @ Mysuru, Benglauru

THE Additional Civil Judge-3 and Judicial Magistrate First Class rejected the bail application of Mohammed Siddiq, the alleged kingpin of the Rs 180 crore GST scam involving steel scrap traders. The total amount traded was over Rs 1,000 crore.

The prosecution argued against granting him bail, so did the commercial tax and GST departments, who opposed the reief, fearing that once enlarged on bail, he could destroy evidence. Siddiq was seeking to come out on bail and the matter was taken up on Wednesday.

Siddiq had virtually set up a maze of fake suppliers. He issued fake tax invoices through fake registrations, misappropriating Input Tax Credit without remitting the taxes to the governments in the initial transaction. He and other culprits, including Imtiaz from Bantwal, could face serious charges under GST, IT and other penal sections related to economic offences.

Tax sleuths have been investigating the scam after they got the first whiff early in January. This concerns steel rerollers where scrap traders or kabadi wallahs used fake transactions to beat the GST collection on scrap, which is 18 per cent. The sleuths raided properties belonging to Siddiq and his associates, and found bank passwords and authorisation by many benami persons who are his accomplices spread across parts of Karnataka, Kerala and Tamil Nadu.

The couple, who had eloped, resulting in a woman being stripped and assaulted by group of people at Hosa Vantamuri village in Belagavi taluk on December 11, 2023, finally entered wedlock on Tuesday (January 30) and registered their marriage at South Zone Sub-Registrar's office in Belagavi

Justice PS Dinesh Kumar is Chief Justice of K'taka HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

JUSTICE P S Dinesh Kumar was appointed Chief Justice of the Karnataka High Court on Wednesday. The President appointed him following the recommendation by the Supreme Court collegium.

Justice PS Dinesh Kumar

Following the appointment of then Chief Justice of the Karnataka High Court Prasanna B Varale as judge of the Supreme Court, Justice Kumar, who is the senior most judge of the Karnataka High Court, was appointed as Acting Chief Justice on January 24. Justice Kumar is due to demit office on superannuation on February 24, and will have a tenure as Chief Justice for less than a month.

While recommending elevating Justice Kumar, who was appointed judge of the High Court on January 2, 2015, as Chief Justice, the collegium noted that he was endowed with a high level of integrity, honesty and competence, and also served the institution with distinction since his appointment.

Born on February 25, 1962, Justice Kumar studied at the National High School, National College and BMS College in Bengaluru.

2 held for sexually harassing women

ENS @ Bengaluru

TWO persons have been arrested for sexually harassing women in separate incidents reported in Vijayanagar and Mahadevapura police station limits.

In the first case, the Vijayanagar police arrested a domestic gas delivery agent on Wednesday for sexually harassing a woman customer at a hotel on December 30, 2023. The incident came to light when the video footage went viral. The accused told the police that his friends threw him a challenge to touch the victim when she was near the cash counter. The victim had refused to file a police report. The police had taken the complaint from the hotel manager.

The accused has been identified as Chandan, a resident of Hampi Nagar in RPC Layout. The CCTV footage at the hotel showed the accused approaching the woman and touching her from behind. His friends reportedly whistled following the harassment. The victim started arguing with the accused and when people started gathering, he fled the spot.

In the second case, the Mahadevapura police arrested a 35-year-old Sunil Kumar Sharma for sexually harassing a woman around 8.40 pm on January 5 on the Ring Road. The victim was waiting for her friends in her car at the parking space opposite a business park when the accused came near the vehicle and started staring at her and making indecent gestures. The victim locked the car doors and tried to drive away from the spot. Since another car was parked behind her, she could not go. He started circling the car while staring at her. The victim then hid under the steering wheel and called her friends. But the accused left by then.

The victim posted about her ordeal on X seeking police protection. The Mahadevapura police contacted the victim and and arrested the accused.

GUARDS RUSHED STUDENT TO HOSP, BUT IT WAS TOO LATE

First-yr BBA student goes to adjacent engineering block to end life; Cops ask for CCTV footage

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AN 18-year-old first year BBA student died by suicide by jumping from the 6th floor of a building on the campus of a private university near Electronic City on Hosur Road. The incident happened on Tuesday at 4.30 pm.

The victim ended his life one hour after his classes. He is said to have gone to the adjacent engineering block and jumped through the sliding windows. He was immediately rushed to the a hospital within the compound and was declared dead around 5.10 pm. The police have registered a case of unnatural death. The police have asked the management to submit the CCTV footage of the passages and other details of the victim. The exact reason for the suicide is yet to be ascertained.

The victim, identified as Vignesh Karupuswamy, was a resident of Raghavendra Layout near Begur in Hongasandra. His father Karupuswamy is a businessman. Soon after he jumped, the guards rushed him to the hospital within five minutes. He was declared dead around 5.10 pm after multiple check-ups.

The victim hailed from Tamil Nadu and was staying with his parents and sister.

Attended classes

The body was handed over to his parents after the postmortem at Victoria Hospital.

"Vignesh attended classes till 3.30 pm on Tuesday. After the classes, he went to the canteen on the fourth floor of the engineering block. After ordering a juice, he kept sitting in the canteen despite his friends leaving. The canteen staff asked him to leave as it was getting late. Using the stairs, he went to the sixth floor. Since the doors to the terrace were locked, he opened the sliding windows of the sixth floor and jumped from it," said an officer, who is part of the investigation.

The Parappana Agrahara police have registered a case and are further investigating.

Varsity exploring personal reasons for BBA student's suicide

BENGALURU: The private university, where a BBA student ended his life, stated that the university does not have any exams or any measured academic activity for the BBA programme at this point in the calendar. Adding that Vignesh, 18, did not take the extreme step due to academic pressure, the management stated, "We have been looking for answers." When TNIE spoke to the university vice-chancellor, he said the institution has a strong mentorship system, where every 30 students are assigned a dedicated faculty mentor to provide support to students. "Vignesh also participated in these one-on-one mentorship sessions and none of these sessions have thrown any red flags. This observation is prompting us to explore his personal space. We also have a robust counselling system and during the lectures, mental health experts are available for students to share their grievances," he added. The lectures and events scheduled on Wednesday were cancelled at the campus. The VC said that a condolence meeting will be held on Thursday for students to mourn the death of the student. "Counsellors will also be made available to help students process the trauma," the VC said. ENS

NSUI to stage protest

BENGALURU: Some activists and student groups in the city, along with the National Students Union India (NSUI), are planning to hold protests against the university in the coming days. They also plan to submit a memorandum to Higher Education Minister Dr MC Sudhakar to take strict action against the university authorities. Highlighting that this is the third suicide on the campus in the last six months, Dushyant Dubey, Ffunder, St Broseph Foundation and a social activist said, "We want the government to intervene and register a suo motu case." The group will request the government to introduce stringent laws to combat ragging. ENS

High Court dismisses ex-MLA's plea against sale of mortgaged land

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE High Court of Karnataka has rejected a petition filed by former MLA Anil H Lad questioning the sale of his mortgaged land in Jala hobli by a bank. The petition was filed nine years after the auction of the land, stating that he was not aware of the sale although he knew it well.

The petitioner (Lad) cannot wake up from deep slumber and begin to assert his right as and when he wants, said Justice M Nagaprasanna while dismissing the petition filed by Lad, questioning the Debt Recovery Tribunal's (DRT) order, on the grounds of delay.

Anil Lad was a guarantor to the Rs 12.67-crore loan availed by M/s VS Lad and Sons from PNB in 2008 and his two acres of land at Shettigere village in Jala hobli was offered as security. Later, the credit facility was modified as the value of the property offered for mortgage was assessed at Rs 8 crore.

The bank initiated proceedings under the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002, and finally, the land was auctioned in favour of M/s Universal Builders in 2014. Lad questioned it before the DRT, which dismissed the same in May 2015. Although he was aware of it and without challenging the DRT's order immediately, he moved the high court in 2024 alleging that the bank played fraud by keeping him in the dark without divulging the sale of land, and hence, his case be entertained without reference to any delay.

VIDEO HELPS POLICE TRACE MISSING PERSON

RAO refused to reunite with his family and wants to live with the members of the transgender community in Mysuru.

Rao went missing in 2017 and his family filed a missing complaint in Ijoor police station. He used to work in a chicken stall. In 2015, he got married and had two children. In March 2017, Rao, who went to work, never returned home. Rao remained untraced despite his wife's missing complaint. Meanwhile, his wife was forced to get married again by her parents. But she decided to wait for Rao's return. After examining the video, the police contacted Rao's family members. They confirmed that the person indeed is Rao. The police traced the transgender activist, who had uploaded the video, and got Rao's address.

A police team from Ijoor went to Mysuru on January 22 and met the transgender. The transgender revealed her name as Vijayalakshmi. During interrogation, Vijayalakshmi maintained that she is not Rao. The police, through their intelligence network, found that Vijayalakshmi is indeed Rao. After transforming himself into a transgender and changing name, Rao alias Vijayalakshmi started living in Mysuru along with other members of the transgender community. "When Rao went missing, he was 31. As Vijayalakshmi was a hard nut to crack, we decided to let her go. When she was leaving the police station, one of our policemen gave a last try. He called her Lakshman loudly. The transgender responded immediately by looking back. This confirmed that she is Rao. The complainant and her father refused to talk to Vijayalakshmi at the police station," said a police officer.

Won't allow CAA to be rolled out in TN, says Stalin

AIADMK supported the Act, but DMK will not

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

TAMIL Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin asserted on Wednesday that the DMK government would never allow the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA) to be implemented in the state as it discriminates against certain groups of people such as Muslims and Sri Lankan Tamil refugees in the country.

Stalin, who is on a tour to Spain to attract investments to Tamil Nadu, cited Union Minister Shantanu Thakur's assertion on January 29 that CAA would be rolled out within seven days across the country.

The DMK leader also blamed the main opposition, AIADMK, for voting in favour of the amendment to the Act when it was introduced in parliament.

Expressing his stance on 'X', the CM criticised the opposition AIADMK saying that if it were not for that party's support to the Citizenship Amendment Bill, it may not have become a law.

"The AIADMK had supported the Act then. But the DMK, though it was in the opposition, along with like-minded parties, organised protests and collected two crore signatures (against the law), which were then submitted to the President, the CM said."

Stalin said, "I am sure that we will not let #CAA set foot in Tamil Nadu. #NoCAAInTamilNadu."

Lokayukta police unearth assets of 10 'crorepati' govt officers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Lokayukta police on Wednesday conducted massive search operations across Karnataka in connection with cases registered against 10 government officers in Tumakuru, Mandya, Chikkamagaluru, Mysuru, Koppal, Vijayanagar, Ballari, Hassan, Chamarajanagara and Mangaluru, over possessing assets disproportionate to their known sources of income.

The team of police officers conducted simultaneous search operations at 41 locations including office and residences of the accused officers, who were all crorepatis.

Harsha HR, Executive Engineer of PWD, Mandya district, stands first among the 10 government officers, with assets worth Rs 4.50 crore. His immovable assets worth Rs 1.68 crore include three sites, two houses and 15 acres 30 gunatas agricultural land. He also owned movable assets worth Rs 2.82 crore including 1.50 lakh cash, ornaments worth Rs 10 lakh, vehicles worth Rs 55 lakh, and household articles worth 2.15 crore.

This was followed by Range Forest Officer, Renukamma, Hoovina Hadagali in Vijayanagara district, found with Rs 2.77 crore assets, including immovable assets of Rs 1.91 crore and movable assets of Rs 86.17 lakh including 2.09 lakh cash, ornaments worth Rs 32 lakh, vehicles worth Rs 29 lakh, and articles worth Rs 23 lakh.

NIA files charges against human trafficking case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Wednesday filed two separate charge sheets against three Bangladeshi nationals in a case connected to the alleged trafficking of people of Rohingya and Bangladeshi origin into India, and is taking them to Tamil Nadu.

The NIA officials alleged that the three suspects mentioned in the charge sheets - Babu SK alias Babu Shoriful alias Md Soriful Babumiya, Shahabuddin Hossain alias Md Sahab Uddin and Munna alias Noor Karim - were actively involved in forging Indian documents to conceal their true identity.

NIA started the investigation into the case on November 7, 2023, and they found that Babu SK, along with other accused, allegedly used to traffic Bangladesh nationals.

He had been arranging illegal stays for them in India, without valid documents, and used to employ and exploit the victims, the officials said. "Investigations revealed that Babu SK had forged his documents," said a senior NIA official.

If approved, India may lead study on cosmic dawn

"OUR initial analysis suggests that the site is promising for deployment of SARAS given the radio quietness. The RRI has submitted a proposal to the National Centre for Polar and Ocean Research (NCPOR), Goa, which is the nodal agency for the Arctic expedition, to deploy SARAS in the Arctic to study the cosmic dawn," said Saurabh Singh.

If NCPOR approves the proposal, India may lead the study on cosmic dawn, which is one of the most important gaps in our understanding of our universe's history. SARAS is a niche high-risk, high-gain experimental effort of RRI initiated to detect extremely faint radio wave signals from the depths of spacetime -- the cosmic dawn.

Singh, who is the principal investigator of the SARAS project, said the SARAS team has been looking for pristine sites within India to deploy the radio telescope.

"Before the Arctic experiment, we had looked at Ladakh and the region around Shivamogga in Karnataka, but terrestrial interference was a major bottleneck. In Shivamogga, our goal was to test the claim of detecting anomalous signals by scientists from Arizona State University (ASU) and Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). In fact, our team was the first to reach the required sensitivity to cross verify their claim and refute it," he added.

Pinarayi questions Rahul's 'soft Hindutva'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

EVEN as the CPM leadership took a decision to join hands with the Congress in the Lok Sabha polls, Kerala CM Pinarayi Vijayan made a frontal attack against Rahul Gandhi over his alleged soft Hindutva stance in connection with the Ayodhya temple consecration ceremony.

"What did Rahul Gandhi do on the day of the consecration? He was insisting on getting permission for entry into a temple in Assam. His insistence on entering the temple that particular day would give the message that it is all part of Hindutva," Pinarayi said.

He said that Congress has left Nehruvian secularism. The Congress governments at the Centre had permitted 'shilanyas' and did not act when the Babri Masjid was destroyed.

"Want to increase innovation? Lower the cost of failure" — Joichi Ito

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

— Ramnath Goenka

LET THE TRICOLOUR RISE ABOVE OTHER FLAGS THIS SEASON

THE election war cry has rung out in Karnataka with a controversy over flags. A Hanuman dhwaja—a saffron flag with Lord Hanuman's face—that had been hoisted on government land in Keragodu village in Mandya district, was brought down to hoist the tricolour on Republic Day. That it had been hoisted by a private trust and brought down by government authorities is lost amid the hue and cry raised over it. BJP workers and villagers are demanding that the dhwaja be raised again, while the government has maintained that no flag barring the tricolour can be hoisted on government land. The local panchayat development officer has been suspended for allowing a private trust to hoist the flag. Suddenly, more flag poles and saffron flags are coming up in various districts, leading to friction. Another row over a green flag broke out in Tadkod village of Dharwad district after a youngster from a minority community put up a controversial social media post, leading to communal tension. This issue is also festering, though the villagers have tamped down on violence.

The two controversies in the span of a week are threatening to polarise the state ahead of the elections. The BJP, which won 25 of the 28 Lok Sabha seats in the state the last time, is banking on the flag row to raise the political temperature, demanding that all green flags put up in minority areas be brought down. The Mandya incident is electorally significant because the BJP has failed to make inroads into this district, which voted overwhelmingly for the Congress in the assembly elections, and has traditionally voted either Janata Dal (Secular) or Congress. In a show of unity, BJP and JDS leaders hit the streets of Mandya demanding that the saffron flag be reinstated. This could mark the beginning of communalisation of the state's farming heartland, which chose independent candidate Sumalatha Ambareesh in the 2019 Lok Sabha election over JDS chief H D Kumaraswamy's son Nikhil Kumaraswamy.

The hoisting of a flag is symbolic of triumph and an assertion of the victor. In these charged times, when battles are sparked on the social media and fought on the streets, religious and sectarian flags are creating strife. If the country has to move ahead with the 'Sabka saath, sabka vikas' mantra, only the national flag should hold pride of place.

INTENSIFY THE DRIVE AGAINST LITTERING

THE long Republic Day weekend saw lakhs of people making a beeline for treks on the 1,712-metre-high Kumara Parvatha, the highest peak in the Pushpagiri Wildlife Sanctuary in the Kodagu region of Western Ghats. Predictably, the trekkers left behind mounds of litter. It was not surprising that after the scale of littering came to light, the Karnataka forest, environment and ecology minister Eshwar Khandre did what he should have done in the first place—he directed the forest and eco-tourism departments not to allow people to trek without prior online clearances. But the minister's direction would take care of just a fraction of the problem.

Littering is as rampant as it can get across India. It is as if it is so deeply cemented in people's minds that it is impossible to dislodge. Throwing litter out while riding or walking is a common act that goes unquestioned, as if it were a basic right. It is like the mind shutting out all signals to approach a bin to discard the waste. So litter finds itself discarded with the least of efforts. And so we get to see so much litter in our public spaces.

We know littering in urban surroundings causes flooding as garbage obstructs drainage. But its impact on natural ecosystems is worse, directly threatening them. Trekkers leave behind nails used in setting up tents, broken bottles which injure wild animals, gums and plastic articles that are consumed by herbivores. Cigarette butts, which contain tiny plastic fibres, are a sizable part of this rubbish. Consumption of plastic by herbivores affects the entire wildlife food chain, impacting the predator-prey cycle. Veterinarians have found large quantities of plastic in the abdomen of wild herbivores during post-mortems.

Littering is a habit that we nurture outside our homes, seldom inside them. We extend it to public spaces without realising its adverse impacts. Anti-littering awareness programmes have failed, as is evident with the persistent littering practice. This calls for more intense and direct awareness programmes, besides steeper penalties and more stringent action to bring in a mindset change. It is not about rights and freedom here, it is about the safety of our ecosystem.

QUICK TAKE

MORE COMPASSIONATE CAPITALISM

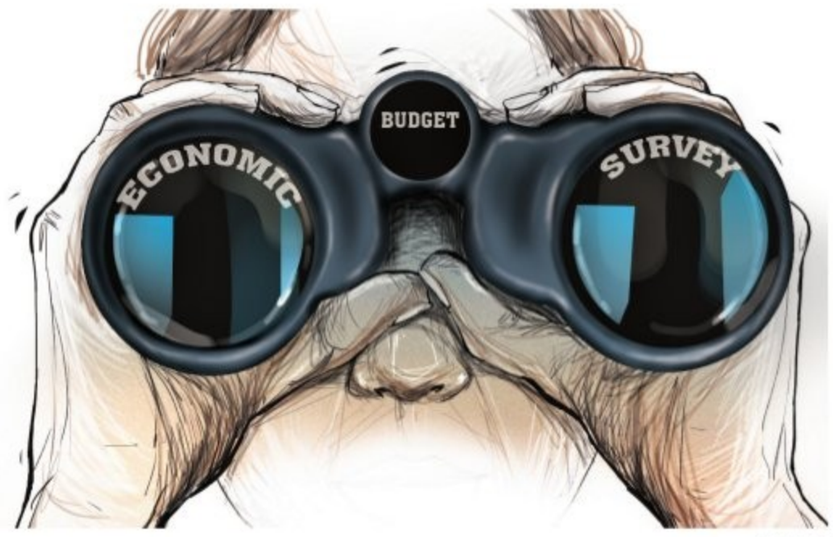
THE world's richest man just got rapped for taking the fattest pay package. A US judge tossed out Elon Musk's 10-year package of $56 billion at Tesla, calling it "an unfathomable sum". While Musk's wealth and pay are both linked to stock prices, the value of his package is more than 30,000 times the median pay in his car company. Top-to-bottom wage ratios have grown in India too. N R Narayana Murthy has advocated for a more compassionate capitalism in developing countries like India. He proposed a ratio of 20-25 between the CEO's pay and that of lowest-level professional. We should heed it as a good corporate governance norm.

An Interim Budget isn't a Vote on Account. An Economic Survey is different from a Review, like the one just presented. The terms' origins reveal their links

SEARCHING FOR A SHAPE OF BUDGET TO COME

BIBEK DEBROY

Chairman, Economic Advisory Council to the PM



SOURAV ROY

WHAT'S in a name? Is an Interim Budget, like the one that's being presented today, the same as a Vote on Account, as some commentators who should know better are suggesting? For clarity, we need to look at where the terms come from.

Vote on Account is explicitly mentioned in the Constitution's Article 116. Parliamentary approval is required for expenditure out of the Consolidated Fund (Articles 113, 114). When this is not possible and the prescribed procedures cannot be followed, Article 116 provides a temporary reprieve. After all, the government cannot cease to function because it has no money. This provision is used when elections have been called and the incumbent government is a caretaker.

In this particular case, we know there will be elections, but no elections have actually been called so far. Therefore, the expression 'Vote on Account' is a misnomer—it, naturally, cannot have changes in taxes and expenditure. In contrast, the expression Interim Budget doesn't figure in the Constitution, just as deputy prime minister doesn't.

There won't be sufficient time to pass a Finance Bill before the election results are known. Besides, it is only fair that the new government decides on its own taxation and expenditure proposals, not just for 2024-25, but also as a framework for 2024-29. In other words, there can be changes in taxes and expenditure proposals in an Interim Budget, but they are not intended to be substantial. Nirmala Sitharaman's Interim Budget for 2024 has already been dissected. Since the political composition of the new government in May 2024 is likely to be the same as the present one, one might as well wait for the full Budget for 2024-25.

Traditionally, the Union Budget has been associated with the Economic Survey. (This is equally true of state budgets and associated surveys.) The Economic Survey is not a constitutional requirement. Let me quote from John Mathai's Budget speech for 1950-51: "All that I propose to do at this stage is to give the honourable members a broad outline of the budgetary position and the general economic background of the Budget. This Budget is being presented under the new Constitution." Accordingly, the Budget speech had a long review of the economy. It continued in that way till 1958-59. That was the first year when we had a separate Economic Survey delinked from the Budget, but presented in parallel. The Budget speech naturally still has references to economic developments, but there is much greater detail in the Survey. Down the years, the Survey has expanded in size and coverage. It is presented two days before the Budget because there used to be a Railway Budget one day before the Budget.

What purpose does the Survey serve? Remember, under the Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management Act of 2003, there are several other documents presented along with the Budget—the macroeconomic framework statement, fiscal policy strategy statement and medium-term fiscal policy statement. But these never attract the kind of attention the Survey does, probably because these documents are eclipsed by the Budget; more importantly, because the Survey is directly identified with the persona of the Chief Economic Adviser (CEA) and his office.

If you go down the list of CEAs, traditionally, they were low-profile as long as they occupied that office. There was a Victorian adage to the effect that children should be seen and not heard. Altered to suit the context, CEAs should be heard (within the government), but not seen or heard otherwise. Somewhere down the line, media exploded and CEAs became much more visible. Often, this affected the nature of the Economic Survey.

The Survey reflects the views of the government—the finance ministry or the department of economic affairs, if you prefer—not those of an individual. That being the case, a certain set of core issues need to be covered, not subject to the whims and fancies of the incumbent CEA. A few recent CEAs have not quite believed in that proposition and have made the Survey individual-dependent, citing themselves profusely. Citations for purposes of analytical rigour are fine, but not if a CEA exhibits a bias towards quoting himself.

Many years ago, when I embarked on my professional career, the Survey used to be physical, not digital. And there was a frenetic rush to try and get hold of it. (Newspapers typically printed only the first chapter.) The Economic Survey is not a source of primary data. It is a secondary source, with the primary source somewhere else within government. But for people outside the government, the Survey was a primary source. Times have changed and there is plenty of data emerging independent of the Survey, including dashboards and other stuff from government. The data argument as a justification for the Survey is no longer as convincing as it used to be. Besides, with the timing of the Survey—this was true even before the date of the Budget presentation was changed—we never have a full year's numbers.

Inertia and resistance to change runs deep, especially given the hype surrounding the Budget. Otherwise, like John Mathai, we could have had a brief sketch of the economy in the Budget speech, with the Survey moving to June/July. But this is wishful thinking. Besides, we do have something like that in the Monthly Economic Reviews. Since this is an Interim Budget, we don't have an Economic Survey. That will have to wait for the full Budget. Instead, we have a document that is called a Review of the Indian economy.

In large measure, this document answers the question about why we need a Survey, whatever be its name. That's because such a document tells us how the government looks at the economy, the problems, priorities and possible policies. Given that the Survey is two days before Budget, one should not presume the Survey gives us any indication about what the Budget has to offer. Historically, it will be difficult to establish such a correlation. Often, a Survey advocated reforms and was applauded, only to be refuted by the Budget. Sometimes, Survey was lambasted because of its lacklustre nature, but the Budget surprised everyone. As far as I recall, 1997-98 was one such instance.

In fairness, however, there has been no such dissonance between the Survey and the Budget with the two Narendra Modi governments, especially since 2018. Though this recent Review isn't a full-fledged Survey, that's how we should look at the issues it has flagged.

ACTIVE NON-ALIGNMENT IN A CHANGING WORLD

JORGE HEINE

Research professor, Pardee School of Global Studies at Boston University, and former Chilean ambassador to India

THERE is little doubt that 2023 was the year in which the Global South came into its own. The expansion of the BRICS that was announced at the group's summit in Johannesburg in August; the G20 summit held in New Delhi in September, considered to be a feather in India's diplomatic cap; the G77 + China summit held in Havana later that month; and the strong reaction of much of Africa, Asia and Latin America to the war in Gaza in the past few months—epitomised by South Africa's case against Israel at the International Court of Justice in The Hague—all point in that direction.

They all underscore the degree to which the main cleavage in today's world is not between democracy and authoritarianism, as some would have it, but rather between the North and the Global South, between the West and the Rest. The question then becomes what the implications of this are for the developing world and for India in particular.

Enter Kajal Basu's timely piece in this newspaper, 'Is India refusing to lead active non-alignment?' (January 10). Basu takes up the issue of active non-alignment or ANA, a concept me and my colleagues Carlos Fortin and Carlos Ominami coined and set forth in a recent book, Latin American Foreign Policies in the New World Order: The Active Non-Alignment Option (Anthem Press), whose paperback edition is coming out now.

Drawing on the best traditions of Indian foreign policy, active non-alignment makes the case that in the current era of Great Power competition, the worst thing developing nations can do is to align themselves with one or another of these powers. On the contrary, what they need to do is to put their own national interest front and centre, evaluate each issue on its merits and act accordingly. This, of course, is a demanding diplomatic task, as it requires fine-tuned, sophisticated analysis of what is at stake. At the same time, while drawing on the traditions of the non-aligned movement or NAM, active non-alignment also adapts them to the realities on the new century.

A key factor here is what has been called the 'wealth shift' from the North Atlantic to the Asia-Pacific. Today's fastest growing economies, including India, are to be found in Asia, and this is where the action is. New multilateral financial institutions, such as the Asian Investment and Infrastructure Bank (AIIB) and the New Development Bank (the so-called 'BRICS Bank') have meant that "collective financial statecraft" and South-South cooperation have replaced the diplomatie des cahiers des doléances (diplomacy of victimhood) of the Third World of yesteryears. This puts countries in the Global South in a much stronger position.

AFP

> The divide between the West and the rest is growing. South-South cooperation is replacing the earlier 'diplomacy of victimhood'. It makes all the more sense to engage with the Great Powers of our times without tilting towards one. Brazilian President Lula is showing how such a balance can be struck

Originally crafted in Latin America in response to the growing tensions between the United States and China in that part of the world, active non-alignment also has caught on elsewhere. In Africa, the refusal of many countries to side with the West on its stance on the Russian invasion of Ukraine and to support the Western sanctions imposed on Moscow were proof positive that the days when Washington and Brussels could impose their views on the rest of the world are long past. In Southeast Asia, Vietnam's 'bamboo diplomacy', that balances the good relations it holds both with Washington and Beijing, tells a similar story. The same can be said about Indonesia, which was a shoo-in to join the BRICS, but had second thoughts at the last moment and is still mulling it over.

And although Basu gets much about active non-alignment right, he is wrong when he says that it is an "almost exclusively anti-Western Axis, and indeed, works in favour of China". That is not correct. The very basis of active non-alignment lies in keeping an equal distance from both powers, and in taking pains not to tilt in one direction or the other. The best example of this the policy followed by Luiz Inácio 'Lula' da Silva of Brazil, who, after taking office in his third term, pointedly visited Washington before visiting Beijing, and enjoys a good rapport both with President Joe Biden and with President Xi Jinping. Active non-alignment is a pragmatic, non-ideological guide to action in a changing world.

Indeed, one of the banes of the non-aligned movement, including Latin America's participation in it, was that at one point it was seen as tilting towards the Soviet Union, undermining much of its credibility. This takes us to the role of India in this troubled moment in world affairs. Yes, India has pointedly refused to use the term non-alignment, let alone active non-alignment, preferring to refer to multi-alignment. Yet, in the end, this is not a question of nomenclature.

On one of the great issues of our time, the war in Ukraine, and despite its membership in the Quadrilateral Security Dialogue or the Quad—sometimes referred to as an "Asian NATO"—India refused to condemn Russia's action, as it has refused to endorse the unilateral Western sanctions against Moscow. At the same time, it has excellent relations with the United States. The fact that over the past year India chaired the G20 and held a highly successful summit of this group, despite the tensions affecting it, shows that it is perfectly possible to keep good relations with Washington and Moscow, while also aspiring to lead the Global South.

Small difference

Ever since the Bihar CM switched sides from the INDIA bloc to NDA, he has become the butt of jokes. When one looks closely at the switch, it is clear that he has just removed the letter 'I' from his alliance to join NDA. However, the BJP might decimate the JDU by eating into its vote share, as it has done in the past.

'Ram temple a milestone in India's history'

In address to both Houses, President Murmu lists Art 370 abrogation & economic progress as major govt achievements

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

President Droupadi Murmu arrives with V-P Jagdeep Dhankhar and PM Narendra Modi for the Parliament session on Wednesday | PTI

PRESIDENT Droupadi Murmu addressing the joint sitting of both Houses in the new Parliament building said on Wednesday that for centuries, there was an "aspiration to construct Ram Mandir, and today, it is a reality."

"In cultural history, there are some milestones that decide the future of centuries. In India's history also, there have been numerous such milestones. On January 22, the country witnessed one such milestone. After a long wait, Ram Lalla now resides in a grand temple in Ayodhya", she said in her 75-minute address.

She said following the consecration ceremony in Ayodhya, 13 lakh devotees have had 'darshan' in only five days.

The President said a nation can progress at a fast pace only when it overcomes the past challenges and invests maximum energy in the future.

"Over the past 10 years, India has witnessed several such tasks being accomplished in the national interest, for which the people of the country were waiting for decades. There were doubts regarding the removal of Article 370 from Jammu and Kashmir. Those are now history," she said amid thumping of desks by MPs. She also said Parliament has enacted a strict law against 'triple talaq.'

Murmu reached Parliament in a traditional buggy and entered the House with the 'sengol' being carried in front of her.

The President said the Indian economy was among the "fragile five" but is now moving in the right direction with the right pace due to several reforms undertaken by the government. Quoting the Niti Aayog report, she said in the 10-year rule of the government, nearly 25 crore people have come out of poverty. She said earlier the country's rate of inflation was in double digits, which is now within 4%.

Congratulating PM Modi for the passage of the women's reservation bill, the President said the 'Nari-Shakti Vandan Adhiniyam has been enacted after a wait of three decades. "This has paved the way for ensuring greater participation of women in the Lok Sabha and the Legislative Assemblies."

The government resolve is for women-led development. "My government has continuously upheld its commitment to 'reform, perform and transform.' The criminal justice system rooted in the era of slavery is now history. Now, justice takes precedence over punishment. The nation has got a new Nyaya Sanhita based on the principle of 'justice first'. The digital personal data protection Act will make the digital space more secure," she said.

As many as 76 old laws were repealed last year and new laws enacted to lay the foundation for the realization of the vision of 'Viksit Bharat.'

Lauding the government performances, she said amidst a series of global crisis, India has emerged as the fastest-growing economy, consistently maintaining over 7.5% growth rate for two consecutive quarters.

She also appreciated the government effort in conducting the successful G20 and accomplishing targets of developments. She also referred to India launching the fastest 5G rollout and an Indian airline company executing the world's largest aircraft deal.

She also said that the Modi government gave jobs to lakhs of youth in mission mode in 2023. She asserted that the armed forces were giving a befitting reply to terrorism and expansionism. India is now a prominent voice against terrorism in the world.

House disruptors must reflect on their conduct: PM

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday asked lawmakers — many of them known for creating commotion in Parliament — to introspect on their conduct. He was addressing the media in the premises of Parliament before the Budget session.

"Over the past 10 years, each member of Parliament has contributed in their own way. However, it is worth reflecting, especially for those MPs who have become accustomed to creating disruptions and habitually undermining democratic values. As they gather for the final session today, they should ponder what they have achieved in the last decade," said the PM.

The PM's remarks came in the backdrop of the suspension of 146 opposition MPs in a single day during the last winter session of Parliament.

"Despite the sharpness of the opposition's voice and severity of criticism, a significant portion of the public still remembers those who enriched the House with constructive ideas," said the PM.

"Individuals who contribute nothing but negativity are seldom remembered," Modi said. "I urge all MPs to act in the best interest of the country."

Modi said President Murmu addressing a joint sitting of lawmakers and finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman presenting the Budget on Thursday is in a way festival of women power. "Traditionally, when elections are imminent, a complete Budget is not presented. We will adhere to the tradition. The finance minister will present her Budget with some guiding points," he said.

China ship poses several dangers to security of Maldives, says ex-envoy

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

CHINESE research vessel Xiang Yang Hong 03, which is said to be close to Maldives Exclusive Economic Zone, has raised concerns over its potential spying.

"The presence of the Chinese spy vessel Xiang Yang Hong 03 with the Maldivian EEZ poses several potential dangers based on its past activities and capabilities. While the Maldivian government has assured that the vessel's visit is purely for replenishment, several concerning factors need to be considered," according to Maldives former Deputy Ambassador to the UAE, Mohamed Faisal.

The Maldivian diplomat stated on social media that the Chinese vessel has a history of spying and intelligence gathering. "The ship has a documented history of conducting oceanographic research in strategic locations of interest to China, which raises concerns about its use for gathering intelligence on underwater infrastructure, submarine movements and communication cables," according to Mohamed Faisal.

The Xiang Yang Hong 03 is said to have sophisticated sonar systems, underwater drones and advanced mapping capabilities, which could be used to map the seabed structure, locate critical infrastructure and create detailed underwater terrain maps.

"Much of the technology on board the vessel has both civilian and military applications, blurring the lines between scientific research and potential military applications," he added.

The former ambassador also highlighted economic and security threats and disruption of critical infrastructure, which includes underwater communication cables. There is concern about the vessel having access to sensitive data that could compromise the archipelago's sovereign interests and create dependence on China. "The threat posed by this ship is alarming, and this vessel must leave Maldives immediately," Faisal said.

Meanwhile, according to media in Maldives, the said ship was to arrive in Male next week but has docked in earlier, which was learnt via satellite images.

NMC operating without full-time chairman for over four months

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE National Medical Commission (NMC), responsible for regulating medical education and medical professionals in India, has been operating without a full-time chairperson for the past four months. This situation persists despite the Union Health Ministry inviting applications last year to fill this critical position.

Currently, Dr BN Gangadhar, the former Director of the National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences, has been serving as the NMC chairman since September last year. He assumed this role after the first NMC chairman, Dr Suresh Chandra Sharma, completed his tenure in September.

Dr Gangadhar previously held the position of president of the Medical Assessment & Rating Board (MARB) and continues to hold that role. The MARB is responsible for defining the procedure for evaluating and rating medical institutions based on their adherence to established standards, conducting inspections, and granting permission for new medical institutions.

In addition to these critical positions, several other important posts within the NMC remain unfilled.

The NMC currently lacks a full-time president for the Ethics & Medical Registration Board (EMRB). The EMRB's responsibilities include maintaining national registers of all licensed medical practitioners, regulating their professional conduct, and promoting medical ethics in accordance with established rules.

Furthermore, the positions of an ex-officio member and two members remain vacant within the 33-member autonomous body of the NMC.

Dr KV Babu, who filed a Right to Information (RTI) request on this matter, received a response from the Union health ministry, indicating that the "appointment to various vacant positions in the NMC, as advertised, is under process."

Dr Babu pointed out that the Union health ministry had issued an invitation for applications for these vacant posts, including the chairman's position, seven months ago.

Even after seven months of receiving applications, there have been no appointments for the regular NMC chairman and other positions. The ministry has cited ongoing application processing as reason for delay

POSITIONS OF AN EX-OFFICIO MEMBER AND 2 MEMBERS REMAIN VACANT WITHIN THE 33-MEMBER AUTONOMOUS BODY, AS PER AN RTI ACTIVIST

- The National Medical Commission in India has lacked a full-time chairperson for 4 months
- Dr BN Gangadhar has been acting as NMC chairman since September 2023
- Key positions within NMC, including the President for the Ethics & Medical Registration Board, remain unfilled.
- The Union health ministry invited applications for these positions seven months ago but has not made appointments

The ministry established a maximum age limit of 65 years for applicants

Kharge flays President's speech, calls it 'political, and an ad for government'

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Congress on Wednesday criticised President Droupadi Murmu's address in Parliament, calling it a "propaganda tool and a political speech" to endorse the policies of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's government.

Responding to the Presidential address, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge said it read more like an advertisement for the Modi government. "The President's speech was only about praising Modi and his government. It was a propaganda, an advertisement for the PM and a political speech. The speech did not mention anything about issues like employment and others. This was a document to trap the poor," said Kharge.

"Maybe the President was directed to speak in such a way that she followed in her 1 hour and 20 minutes long speech," the Congress leader said.

Addressing a joint sitting of the two Houses in the new Parliament building on Wednesday, President Murmu spoke on various achievements of the government from economy, building of Ram temple, abrogation of Article 370 and women's reservation bill.

Echoing Kharge's views, Congress leader Shashi Tharoor described the President's address as an election speech and a one-sided narrative.

"They have written an election speech for the President to deliver. They have not talked about the things they have not done. They claimed that they pull people out of poverty but they also talked about giving 81 crore people food grains," said Tharoor. "This is a one-sided narrative that leaves out several important omissions," he said.

Another Congress MP Gaurav Gogoi said that economic and social issues were crushed in the President's speech.

"...Economic and social issues were crushed in the President's speech. I think the way those close to the PM are being benefitted will continue to get benefits with this year's budget," he said.

February to be wetter and warmer, says IMD

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

UNLIKE one of the driest and coldest Januarys since 1901, the Indian Meteorological Department (IMD) is now predicting a wetter and hotter February.

The higher-than-normal temperatures forecasted for February could have an impact on the main rabi crop, wheat. Wheat is particularly sensitive to warmer climates during the flowering stage, as it requires a normal colder environment for the creation and shaping of juice.

In their analysis of January, the IMD declared it the fourth coldest and ninth driest month since 1901. The prolonged fog and lower cloud conditions had reduced the intensity of the cold wave.

Meanwhile, the IMD has forecasted above-normal rainfall for February across the country, with the exception of most parts of south peninsular India. In north India, which consists of seven meteorological sub-divisions, including key wheat-growing regions such as East Uttar Pradesh, West Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Haryana, Chandigarh and Delhi, Punjab, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, and Ladakh, rainfall is most likely to be above normal (>122% of the Long Period Average (LPA)).

The IMD has also predicted minimum temperatures above normal for most parts of the country. Similarly, monthly maximum temperatures are expected to be above normal in most parts of Northwest India, West central India, Northeast India, and some parts of East central India.

Due to the higher temperatures, the possibility of cold wave days is lower over central India in February. Additionally, the El Nino conditions prevailing over the Equatorial Pacific are likely to weaken by the end of April, which would boost the monsoon.

The temperatures (20.13 Deg C) and rainfall (7.2 mm) during January 2024 were the ninth lowest since 1901. Rainfall across all of India during January 2024 was approximately 58% below normal. The highest deficit was recorded in the Northwest region, with a 91% deficit, the second lowest since 1901. The recorded rainfall during January was only 3.1 mm. Other regions also experienced rainfall deficits, including East and Northeast (-67%) and Central India (-29%).

Meanwhile, the South peninsula experienced a wetter January, with rainfall recorded as the third highest since 2001.

However, the persistence of fog and low cloud cover over the Indo-Gangetic Plain between December 25, 2023, and January 30, 2024, reduced the cold wave condition, although it led to persistent cold days to severe cold days in many areas. Prolonged fog, an inactive western disturbance, and the absence of north-westerly winds led to the confinement of cold waves in isolated areas, resulting in six reported deaths in Bihar due to the cold wave.

IMD's data also indicates that maximum and minimum temperatures were unusual in January, with minimum temperatures above normal and maximum temperatures below normal on most days.

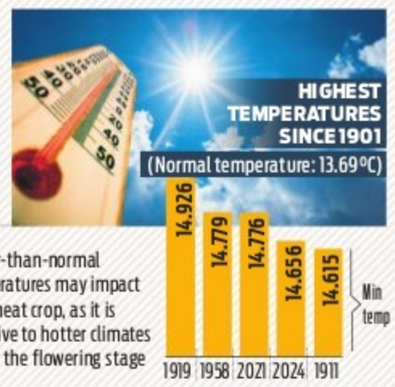
Prolonged fog or lower cloud conditions have reduced intensity of the cold wave

Wheat-growing northwest region was the second driest region since 1901

Due to higher temperatures, the possibility of cold wave days is lower over central India in February



IMD has predicted wetter as well as hotter February. The rainfall and temperature would be above normal, it said

Higher-than-normal temperatures may impact the wheat crop, as it is sensitive to hotter climates during the flowering stage

Rainfall to be normal in wheat-growing regions

The IMD has forecasted above-normal rainfall for February across the country, with the exception of most parts of south peninsular India. In north India, which consists of seven meteorological sub-divisions, including key wheat-growing regions such as East Uttar Pradesh, West Uttar Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Haryana, Chandigarh and Delhi, Punjab, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, and Ladakh, rainfall is most likely to be above normal (>122% of the Long Period Average).

Shepherds in Ladakh assert grazing rights, stand up against PLA troops

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

A group of shepherds in Ladakh stood up against the Chinese troops who tried to stop them from grazing their sheep close to the Line of Actual Control (LAC) in eastern Ladakh. The video, shared by Chushul councilor Konchok Stanzin, was hailed on social media.

The local shepherds have been grazing their cattle in the area for ages. They had to stop taking the animals out following the 2020 Galwan clash.

The LAC is an undemarcated de facto border between India and China. In these areas, both countries have differing perceptions. Since the standoff, both sides have held multiple meetings at the military and diplomatic levels.

In an X post, the Chushul councillor praised the shepherds' resistance against PLA troops and praised the Indian Army for supporting them. "It is heartening to see the positive impact made by @fireflurycorps_IA in border areas of Eastern Ladakh in facilitating the grazers and nomads to assert their rights in traditional grazing grounds along the north bank of Pangong," he said. "I would like to thank the Indian Army for such strong civil-military relations and looking after the interests of the border population," he said.

Konchok Stanzin also shared a link to the Instagram video of the incident, which, as per the reports, took place earlier this month. "See how our local people are showing their bravery in front of the PLA... I salute our nomads, who always protect our land and stand as the second guardian force of the nation," he wrote.

In the video at least three Chinese armoured vehicles and some soldiers are visible on the spot. The vehicles can be heard blaring an alarm. But the shepherds are seen arguing with the PLA troops and standing their ground insisting that they are grazing on the Indian territory.

As the altercation escalates, some shepherds appear to pick up stones. There are no visuals of any violence. The Chinese soldiers seen in the video were also not armed.

As per the Chushul councillor the shepherds could act bravely against PLA troops because of the support of the Indian forces. "No doubt that our forces are always with civilians resolving the grazing issues with the PLA, it's all due to their support that our nomads could face the PLA," he said.

The situation along the LAC remains "stable but sensitive," Army Chief General Manoj Pande said recently. "In the last one year, we haven't had any more friction. Our talks both at the military and diplomatic levels continue," said Gen Pande.

Credit war over Bihar caste survey

Nitish says he initiated the caste census move, not Rahul Gandhi; RJD too joins row

RAMASHANKAR @ chennai

IN a bid to project themselves as 'real champion' of Other Backward Classes (OBCs) and Extremely Backward Classes (EBCs), JD(U) and its new political rival, RJD on Wednesday sought to take full credit for the caste survey in Bihar as chief minister Nitish Kumar claimed that the caste count was conducted due to his initiative.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday claimed that Nitish conducted the caste survey in the state under pressure from him and his party. "It is a useless claim aimed at taking credit for the caste survey. Everyone knows I had taken several initiatives for it," he remarked.

Nitish said a unanimous resolution was passed in the assembly in 2020, seeking the 2021 census as the basis for the caste count. He had also led a 10-member all party-delegation in 2021 to PM Modi. The RJD and Congress were in opposition when he took these initiatives, he added. Nitish also attacked former deputy chief minister and RJD leader accusing him of unnecessarily taking credit for giving jobs to youths as jobs were already being provided through a government scheme. He also called Tejashwi a 'bachcha' (child), unaware how bad the situation was in the state when RJD was in power before 2005.

It is a useless claim aimed at taking credit for the caste survey. Everyone knows I had taken several initiatives for it. A unanimous resolution was passed in the assembly in 2020, seeking the 2021 census as the basis for the caste count — Nitish Kumar, Bihar CM

Meanwhile, RJD MP Manoj Kumar Jha told the media in Patna that the enumeration was conducted due to RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav. He said the caste-based survey report provided the caste data and the reservation quotas for various castes were increased to 75 % subsequently.

RJD leader said the state government subsequently requested the Centre to incorporate the hiked reservation for deprived castes from 50 to 65 % in state government jobs and educational institutions in the 9th schedule of the Constitution, so that it is guaranteed immunity from legal scrutiny, but Narendra Modi government was not accepting the request due to its 'narrow mindedness'.

Jha said that what initiatives RJD chief Lalu Prasad and Tejashwi took for the caste survey in the state, Congress and DMK took it forward. Now it is being discussed at the national level, he pointed out. "Everybody knows how BJP tried to put stumbling blocks in conducting the caste census in the state," he added. Reacting to claims by RJD-Congress, chief minister Nitish Kumar said, "They are trying to take fake credit for the caste survey in the state."

On Tuesday, Rahul Gandhi during his Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra in Bihar, broke his silence on Nitish on Tuesday and said that alliance comprising Congress, RJD and Left parties didn't require him.

He said the yatra has taken the responsibility to deliver social justice to the people of the state. He also said that Nitish Kumar existed 'INDIA' bloc due to caste-based survey.

Maha Oppn alliance confirms tie-up on 34 of 48 LS seats

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) has finalised 34 Lok Sabha seats, with the remaining seats set to be confirmed shortly. The formal announcement is scheduled for the first week of February.

The MVA alliance partners, which include the Congress, the NCP led by Sharad Pawar, and the Shiv Sena led by Uddhav Thackeray, have come to an agreement on all 48 seats in Maharashtra for the 2024 Lok Sabha elections.

The allocation of the 34 Lok Sabha seats out of the total 48 seats in Maharashtra was resolved during two meetings held in Mumbai.

The third meeting of MVA partners is planned for February 2 to finalise the details, after which the Delhi leadership will give their approval.

The 14 Lok Sabha seats in contention among the MVA alliance partners include Wardha, Ramtek, Bhiwandi, Hingoli, Jalna, Mumbai North West, Mumbai North Central, Mumbai South Central, and Shirdi.

According to a senior Congress leader, the Congress party plans to contest 20 to 22 Lok Sabha seats, while the NCP factions led by Sharad Pawar will vie for six to eight seats, and the Shiv Sena led by Uddhav Thackeray intends to field candidates for 18 to 20 seats in Maharashtra.

A senior NCP leader, who requested anonymity, mentioned, "If Vanchit Bahujan Aghadi leader Prakash Ambedkar joins the Opposition-led INDIA alliance, the Congress party may concede a couple of seats. Shiv Sena (UBT) has expressed willingness to allocate one seat to Swabhimani Shetkari Sangathan, which is the Hatkanangale LS seat."

Govt renames 33 institutions, roads

The Lt Governor administration in Jammu and Kashmir has ordered renaming of 33 educational institutions including schools and colleges, and roads after the names of 'martyrs and eminent personalities' of the Union Territory. In Anantnag, the Government Degree College Boys was renamed after DySP Himayun Muzamil Bhat, who was killed in an encounter with militants in last year. In Srinagar, Government Boys High School, Narwara has been renamed after Masroor Ali Wani, cop who was killed playing cricket ground last year.

Printing of smart card driving licenses

The Transport Department of Jammu and Kashmir has started centralised printing and dispatch of driving licenses providing much awaited respite to the license card seekers. The printing of approx two lakh driving licenses, which was pending for over one and a half year, has been resumed in collaboration with the Union Ministry of Road Transport with the target to print and dispatch all the pending Driving Licenses within the next two months. A major facelift in the new cards has also been introduced.

Khelo India Winter Games from Feb 21-25

The 4th Khelo India winter games in the world famous ski resort of Gulmarg, which were scheduled to be held on February 2, have now been postponed and will be held from February 21. Due to lack of snow in Gulmarg, the snow games in Gulmarg have been postponed till February 21. Gulmarg will now host the event from February 21-25 instead of February 2-6. The officials said they are hopeful of adequate snow at Gulmarg till February 21 as the MeT department has predicted snow spells in the coming days.

HC refuses to stay mayoral poll results in Chandigarh, issues notices to civic body

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

PUNJAB and Haryana High Court on Wednesday declined to stay the result of the Chandigarh mayoral election that was challenged by the joint candidate of Congress-Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) Kuldeep Kumar.

However, a division bench of Justices Sudhir Singh and Harsh Bunger issued notices to the Union Territory administration, Municipal Corporation and others to file their replies within three weeks. The court then listed the case for hearing on February 26.

Speaking to the media after the hearing, the petitioner's counsel, Gurminder Singh, said the court has given three weeks to the administration, the municipal corporation and others to file their replies. Senior standing counsel Anil Mehta said the court did not provide any interim relief to the petitioner. On Tuesday, Congress-AAP candidate Kumar moved the high court challenging the results of the mayoral elections. He has sought to set aside the process of the poll alleging "complete fraud and forgery".

He has also sought instructions to restrain the newly elected mayor from discharging his duties. He sought directions from the high court for elections to be held afresh.

"Fresh elections should be held under the supervision of a Retired High Court Judge, and a thorough investigation of the election process be carried out by an independent investigation agency headed by SSP Chandigarh. The entire process of the election, including the ballot papers and video graphics evidence, be sealed, and the newly-elected mayor be restrained from discharging the functions of Mayor as the entire process of election is vitiated by fraud," petitioner said.

300 tourists stuck near Atal tunnel rescued

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

SOME 300 tourist stranded near the South Portal of the Atal Tunnel in Rohtang of Kullu of Himachal Pradesh after heavy snowfall were rescued. After a long dry spell of nearly two months, snow in the hill state and widespread rain in its lower reaches brought cheers to the farmers and hoteliers in the region.

As several places in upper Shimla got first snow of the season, also Lahaul and Spiti, Chamba and Kullu witnessed snow fall. Himachal Pradesh Police rescued 300 tourists stranded near the South Portal (SP) of the Atal tunnel in Rohtang after heavy snowfall on Tuesday evening.

Superintendent of Police of Kullu, Sakshi Verma said that some 300 people were stuck due to the snowfall yesterday evening as they were coming back to Sissu side on north portal of the tunnel as their vehicles could not come down so the police and local administration sent rescue vehicles and people were brought down. District administration officials including DSP and others and team conducted a rescue operation.

Hijab row intensifies: Raj plans dress code in all govt schools

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE hijab controversy in Rajasthan has intensified with major developments emerging two days after BJP MLA Balmukund Acharya stirred controversy by calling for a ban on hijabs at a government school in Jaipur.

State education minister Madan Dilawar has announced plans to strictly implement a dress code for all students in government schools across the state. In addition, a comprehensive inquiry will be conducted into the incident where students protested against the BJP MLA two days ago. Dilawar clarified that not only would the dress code be enforced but any school lacking an image or picture of Saraswati Maa, the Goddess of learning, will face repercussions.

Dilawar issued a statement, stating, "I am neither in favour nor against the hijab, but everyone should adhere to the government's directives." He added that, apart from selected prayers, other forms of prayer would not be taught in schools, and a set of 4-5 prayers will be implemented. Dilawar emphasised that there will be no tolerance for religious conversions in schools, and stringent action will be taken against any such attempts.

The Education Minister also discussed tightening curriculum-related rules, emphasising that teachers must focus on the great figures mentioned in the syllabus. Any deviation from the curriculum will result in appropriate action. Dilawar asserted, "The government is the government, and it knows how to enforce orders."

Minister of State for Home Jawahar Singh Bedham echoed these sentiments, stating, "When we used to study, we would go to school in a uniform. Students should be allowed to come to school only in the prescribed uniform, maintaining discipline. Schools are temples of education, and uniforms instill discipline."

The demand for a dress code in schools received support from the Vishwa Hindu Parishad, which emphasized the importance of discipline and equality among students. The organization stressed that uniforms in schools aim to eliminate social, economic, or religious discrimination based on clothing. The controversy originated on January 29 when Acharya objected to hijab.

Row erupted on Jan 29

- Controversy erupted on January 29 when Balmukund Acharya, the BJP MLA from Hawa Mahal, allegedly objected to girls wearing hijab in government schools
- Some Muslim students gathered at the Subhash Chowk police station in Jaipur

CLIMATE CHANGE

Changing weather patterns influence behaviour of U'khand migratory birds

Birds' migration commences in October, and they return to their native habitats by the end of March. This time, a group painted storks has been spotted at Asan Wetland since November

Pradeep Saxena, bird expert with U'khand Forest dept

'Study to decide'

The possible cause of the migratory birds arriving sooner than usual is attributed to the weather, but a comprehensive study would be conducted to understand the reasons behind these frequent changes

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE effects of global warming on weather patterns are becoming increasingly apparent in both human and avian populations. Changes in climate has also exerted a significant influence on the migratory habits of birds. This could account for the early arrival of the painted stork at the Conservation Reserve Asan Wetland in the Dehradun district of Uttarakhand, where it traditionally establishes a temporary habitat.

According to wildlife sources in Dakpathar, thousands of migratory birds, including Painted Stork, travel to Uttarakhand's first Ramsar site, Asan Wetland, from various countries in Europe, as well as Iran, Afghanistan, Russia, Siberia, and the high Himalayan regions of India. This year, the painted stork arrived here earlier than usual. Bird experts attribute this early arrival to the changing weather patterns.

Pradeep Saxena, a forester and bird expert with the Uttarakhand Forest Department, shared the remarkable phenomenon of migratory birds gathering at the Asan Wetland long before the arrival of the Painted Stork.

Saxena explained, "Thousands of migratory birds from different countries and the high Himalayan regions of India visit Uttarakhand's first Ramsar site, Asan Wetland. Their migration typically commences in October, and they return to their native habitats by the end of March."

Saxena told this newspaper, "This time, a group of 20 to 25 Painted Storks has been spotted at Asan Wetland since November." The Painted Stork is a species of heron found in the plains of India. This bird resides in areas near rivers, lakes, and shallow waters and migrates for some time for changes in weather, food availability, and breeding.

The migration of the Painted Storks has come as a surprise to wildlife expert Dr. Soumya Prasad and veteran wildlife photographer Satpal Singh Gandhi, who boasts 35 years of experience in the field. Gandhi says, "Weather changes may be responsible for this phenomenon, but it is a matter of serious concern."

Gandhi, a wildlife photographer, told this daily, "Previous surveys of the bird population and migration patterns in Asan Wetland revealed that painted storks, Pallas's Fish Eagles, and Rudy Shelducks are regular visitors to the area." As a result of these findings, Asan Wetland was designated as an Important Bird Area in 2005 and is now part of the protected 'Asan Conservation Reserve."

Divisional Forest Officer Mayank Shekhar Jha of Chakrata Forest Division, told, "Painted storks come early. Initially, the possible cause is attributed to the weather, but a comprehensive study will be conducted to understand the reasons behind this."

Prolonged dry weather in Kashmir breaks six-decade record in Srinagar

Snowfall causes temporary disturbances in daily life but in the long run, it is in interest and benefits the people. Less of it will definitely have a bearing on our water supply, electricity and agriculture

Abdul Rashid, retired school teacher

'Last driest Jan in '96'

Meteorological department official says Srinagar recorded only 1.5 mm precipitation in Chilai Kalan this winter. "The last driest January was recorded in 1966. 0.6 mm precipitation was recorded,"

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

JAMMU and Kashmir summer capital Srinagar has recorded the driest Chilai Kalan (40-day harshest winter period) when there are maximum chances of rain and snowfall this winter in the last 60 years.

According to the Meteorological department official, Srinagar recorded only 1.5 mm precipitation during Chilai Kalan this winter. The Chilai Kalan started on December 21 and ends on January 30. "The previous driest January was recorded in 1966, when only 0.6 mm precipitation was recorded," the MeT official said.

This Chilai Kalan, Kashmir witnessed uncharacteristic dry weather. There has been no snow in the plains including Srinagar while the upper reaches including famous tourist resorts of Gulmarg in north Kashmir, Pahalgam in south Kashmir and Sonamarg in central Kashmir have witnessed very little snowfall and that too at the fag end of the Chilai Kalan. No snowfall in plains including Srinagar this time has disappointed the locals.

A retired school teacher Abdul Rashid said the snowfall in

Snowfall occured at Tangmarg only on Wednesday | PTI

'Chilai Kalan' is very important and crucial for the Valley.

"The snow during the 'Chilai Kalan' remains frozen and provides water supply to the water bodies during the summers. The snowfall causes temporary disturbances in daily life but in the long run, it is in interest and benefits the people," he said. Rashid rued that unfortunately there has been very less snowfall in upper reaches while the plains did not experience any snowfall this winter.

"It will definitely have a bearing on our water supply, electricity and agriculture and horticulture produce this year," he said.

Meteorological department Kashmir Mukhtar Ahmed attributed continued dry spell and no active Western Disturbance for the driest Chilai Kalan in Srinagar. "This year feeble Western Disturbances were also very low". He attributed the lengthy dry spell and reduced snowfall to the El-Nino effect, a periodic sequence of climatic changes that impact parts of the Pacific region.

"The El-Nino effect still persists in J&K. Besides, there may also be other factors for the driest January," Mukhtar said.

CHINESE HACKERS WILL RUIN CRITICAL U.S. INFRA: FBI

WASHINGTON

CHINESE government hackers are busily targeting water treatment plants, the electrical grid, transportation systems and other critical infrastructure inside the United States, FBI Director Chris Wray will tell House lawmakers on Wednesday in a fresh warning from Washington about Beijing's global ambitions.

Wray will say that that there's been "far too little public focus" on a cyber threat that affects "every American," as per a copy of prepared remarks that he is to give before the House Select Committee on the Chinese Communist Party.

"China's hackers are positioning on American infrastructure in preparation to wreak havoc and cause real-world harm to American citizens and communities, if or when China decides the time has come to strike," Wray will say.

The comments align with assessments from outside cybersecurity firms including Microsoft, which said in May that state-backed Chinese hackers have been targeting US critical infrastructure and could be laying the technical groundwork for the potential disruption of critical communications between the United States and Asia during future crises. AP

IMRAN, WIFE BUSHRA BIBI SENTENCED TO 14 YEARS RI IN TOSHAKHANA CASE

Both of them barred from holding public office for 10 years, fined Rs 787 million each

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S former prime minister Imran Khan and his wife Bushra Bibi were sentenced on Wednesday to 14 years of rigorous imprisonment each in a corruption case, a day after the beleaguered leader was given a 10-year jail term for leaking state secrets.

The verdict by an accountability court, which comes eight days before the February 8 general elections, has added to the legal woes of the 71-year-old politician's bid to return to power. Imran is already serving a three-year jail term after being convicted of corruption in a separate Toshakhana case on August 5 last year.

Accountability Court Judge Mohammad Bashir conducted the hearing at Rawalpindi's Adiala Jail, where Imran is incarcerated.

In the Toshakhana corruption case, he was accused of retaining expensive state gifts they received during his tenure as Pakistan's premier from 2018-2022.

Imran and his wife were also barred from holding any public office for 10 years and slapped with a fine of Rs 787 million each. Bushra Bibi, 49, did not appear before the court on Wednesday.

Reacting to the verdict, Imran's party, the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaaf (PTI) current chief Gohar Khan said the judgment only served to lower the respect of the judiciary.

"The accused were not given time and the process was hurried to conclude the trial," he said, adding that the defence was not given the right of cross-examination.

"Complete destruction of every existing law in Pakistan in two days. Imran Khan and Bushra Bibi have faced yet another kangaroo trial in which no right to defence was given to both. Like cipher, this case has no basis to stand in any Higher court. It's shameful how a complete disregard and mockery of law is in place," PTI said in a post on X.

Separately, the PTI in a statement said that these decisions, reached in haste, and cannot impact the fervour, any PTI supporter talks of, around election time. It alleged that the star witness was changed and a witness who's a part-time worker did an evaluation of gifts by showing photos, while no cross-questioning was allowed, no final argument concluded and decision popped up like a predetermined process in play.

"This ridiculous decision will also be challenged," the party announced.

Imran's sister Aleema Khan said that the 'judicial system has buried itself' today. PTI

Duped by court while sentencing: Imran

Imran Khan on Wednesday accused the Accountability Court of deceiving him by calling him for the hearing in the Toshakhana case to only mark attendance. At the outset of the hearing, Judge Bashir asked Imran if he recorded his statement. To this, he said that he would submit his statement once his lawyers came. "Why are you in a hurry?...," Imran said. He was then told to submit his statement immediately and "not waste court's time." I have been deceived as I was only called to mark my attendance for the hearing," Imran said.

Verdict reserved in Imran's marriage case

A Pakistani high court on Wednesday reserved its verdict on a petition seeking the dismissal of a case challenging the 'un-Islamic' marriage of Imran Khan to his third wife, Bushra Bibi. The Islamabad High Court (IHC) Chief Justice Aamer Farooq heard the case filed by Bibi's ex-husband, Khawar Maneka, in November last year, The Express Tribune reported. During the hearing on Wednesday, PTI party lawyer Salman Akram Raja said that the case was only aimed at humiliating the petitioners.

US judge voids Elon Musk's $56 bn Tesla compensation

DOVER

A judge in the US state of Delaware voided the $56 billion compensation package of Tesla chief executive Elon Musk on Tuesday, siding with a shareholder who claimed the entrepreneur was overpaid.

The judge in Delaware Chancery Court ruled that the plaintiff, a Tesla shareholder named Richard Tornetta, was "entitled to rescission," approving the annulment of Musk's 2018 humongous compensation agreement worth as much as $55.8 billion.

Judge Kathaleen McCormick added that the parties must now "confer" and then submit a joint letter "identifying all issues, including fees, that need to be addressed to bring this matter to a conclusion at the trial level."

The electric vehicle maker's share price fell more than 3% in after-hours trading following the publication of the ruling.

In a message posted to X, shortly after the decision was announced, Musk wrote, "Never incorporate your company in the state of Delaware."

A lawyer for Musk did not immediately respond.

"We are enormously grateful for the court's thorough and extraordinarily well-reasoned decision in turning back the Tesla board's absurdly outsized pay package for Musk," Greg Varallo, who represented the shareholders, told AFP. "The court's hard work will redound directly to the benefit of Tesla investors, who will see the dilution from this gargantuan pay package erased," he added. AFP

Decision taken on response to killing of 3 troops: Biden

WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT Joe Biden on Tuesday indicated he had decided how to respond after the killing of three American service members on Sunday in a drone attack in Jordan that his administration has pinned on Iran-backed militia groups, saying he does not want to expand the war in the Middle East but demurring on specifics.

"I don't think we need a wider war in the Middle East," Biden said. "That's not what I'm looking for."

It was not immediately clear whether Biden meant he had decided on a specific retaliatory plan. A US official told AP that the Pentagon is still assessing options to respond to the attack in Jordan.

National Security Council spokesman John Kirby told reporters that he would not preview the US response, but indicated it would come in phases.

"It's very possible that what you'll see is a tiered approach here, not just a single action, but potentially multiple actions over a period of time," he said.

The Pentagon identified those killed in the attack as Sgt. William Jerome Rivers, 46, of Carrollton, Georgia; Spc. Kennedy Ladon Sanders, 24, of Waycross, Georgia; and Spc. Breonna Alexsondria Moffett, 23, of Savannah, Georgia. The Army Reserve announced on Tuesday that it had posthumously promoted Sanders and Moffett to rank of sergeant.

Meanwhile, Iran threatened on Wednesday to "decisively respond" to any US attack on the Islamic Republic following Biden's linking of Tehran to the killing of three US soldiers.

The Iranian warnings first came from Amir Saeid Iravani, Iran's ambassador to the UN in New York. He gave a briefing to Iranian journalists late Tuesday, IRNA reported.

"The Islamic Republic would decisively respond to any attack on the county, its interests and nationals under any pretexts," IRNA quoted Iravani as saying. He described any possible Iranian retaliation as a "strong response," without elaborating. The Iranian mission to the UN did not respond to requests for elaboration Wednesday on Iravani's remarks. AP

Judge voids Musk's $56 bn Tesla compensation

Dover: Elon Musk is not entitled to a landmark compensation package awarded by Tesla's board of directors that is potentially worth more than $55 billion, a Delaware judge ruled on Tuesday. The judge in Delaware Chancery Court ruled that the plaintiff, a Tesla shareholder named Richard Tornetta, was "entitled to rescission," approving the annulment of Musk's 2018 compensation agreement worth $55.8 billion. Judge Kathaleen McCormick said the parties must now "confer" and then submit a joint letter "identifying all issues, including fees, that need to be addressed to bring this matter to a conclusion at the trial level."

RBI cracks the whip on Paytm Bank

Bars from accepting deposits, credit transactions, top-ups in user accounts after Feb 29

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Wednesday barred Paytm Payments Bank from accepting deposits, credit transactions and top ups in any customer account after February 29.

This comes as a big setback for the bank as the central bank cited persistent non-compliances and continued material supervisory concerns in the bank, warranting further supervisory action.

Earlier in March 2022, RBI directed Paytm Payments Bank to stop onboarding of new customers with immediate effect and it still maintains the curb. Patym holds 49% in the payments bank and founder Vijay Shekhar Sharma holds the rest (51%).

However, customers can withdraw or utilise balances from their accounts including savings bank accounts, current accounts, prepaid instruments, FASTags, National Common Mobility Cards, etc.

The RBI further said, "The Nodal Accounts of One97 Communications Ltd and Paytm Payments Services Ltd are to be terminated at the earliest, in any case not later than February 29, 2024." Brokerage Bernstein in a note said, "For all practical purposes, the notifications (RBI) end operations of Paytm Payments Bank. This is a definite negative development and adds to the already heavy regulatory overhang on the business."

The Nodal Accounts of One97 Communications Ltd and Paytm Payments Services Ltd are to be terminated at the earliest, in any case not later than February 29, 2024

Reserve Bank of India

It expects no immediate impact to its UPI payment business as it accounts for 70% of GMV. Milan Sharma, Founder and MD, 35North Ventures, VC firm, said customers are not negatively impacted at this time, and they can still freely operate their accounts for the unrestricted features.

"Despite not being able to provide lending and credit services, payments banks have been successful in creating widely accessible financial services for a more inclusive economy. Yet, they are in the early adoption stages, so stiffening of regulations around customer KYC, data outflows in foreign payments, and deposit limits can be expected," he said.

In October last year, the RBI fined the bank with Rs 5.39 crore penalty for non-compliance with certain provisions of the RBI (KYC) Directions, 2016. Gaurav Goel, Founder - Director, Fynocrat Technologies said the RBI's move primarily targets Paytm's banking operations, allowing customers to still utilize Paytm for digital payments as long as their account remains connected to an external bank.

"This development is also expected to influence the short to medium-term stock price of Paytm (One 97 Communication)," he added.

Govt cuts import duty on mobile components to 10%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

IN a move that can make mobile manufacturing cheaper in India, the government on Wednesday announced a reduction in import duty on certain mobile components from 15% to 10%.

According to the gadget notification, the government has slashed import duty on components such as the battery cover, main cover, GSM antenna, and others components to 10%. The government believes the move will accelerate electronics manufacturing in the country and subsequently will lead to export smartphone from the country. "This rationalisation of custom duties brings much needed certainty and clarity for the industry and in customs processes. I thank Prime Minister Narendra Modi and finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman for this step towards strengthening the mobile phone manufacturing ecosystem," said telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw.

The government had earlier raised the BCD (basic Customs duty) from 5% to 15% on these items in 2018 under the Phased Manufacturing Programme (PMP). The move is in line with the recommendation of the Indian Cellular and Electronics Association (ICEA), which suggested duty cuts to reduce the cost of making smartphones in India. According to the ICEA, mobile phone exports from India could triple to $39 billion over the next two years, from $11 billion in FY23, if the government reduces import tariffs on components.

"This is a critical and welcome policy intervention by the government towards making mobile manufacturing competitive in India. Building scale and riding on low input tariffs are key to transforming India into a global hub for electronics manufacturing and exports," said Pankaj Mohindroo, Chairman of ICEA.

"Electronics have improved from the 9th position a few years ago to India's 5th largest export in 2024. Mobiles constitute over 52% of electronics exports, thanks to the PLI Scheme. This is the first industry to leapfrog from import substitution to export-led growth within the last 8 years. The government has been an excellent and willing partner in this transformation," added Mohindroo. However, the Global Trade Research Initiative (GTRI) advised against cutting import duties on electronics components in the upcoming budget.

Wipro plans to cut hundreds of mid-level onsite job roles

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

Wipro is reportedly planning to cut hundreds of mid-level roles at its onsite locations.

This is mainly to enhance its margins. In Q3FY24, for the fourth consecutive quarter, the company reported a fall in its consolidated net profit at ₹2,694 crore. The firm's IT services operating margin in stood at 16.0%, down 11 bps sequentially. Reports suggest the intimations were sent to employees early this month and that the company's onsite resources in Capco are very costly. In 2021, Wipro acquired Capco, a global management and technology consultancy to the banking and financial services industry, for $1.45 billion.

When asked about the proposed lay-offs, in a statement to TNIE, Wipro said, "We are committed to investing in our people, processes, and technology to drive better client and employee experiences and enhance productivity and agility across our organisation to meet fast-evolving client and market needs." The spokesperson added, "Aligning our business and talent to changing market environment is a critical part of our strategy as we look to build a resilient, agile, and high-performance organisation." Capco reported a double-digit sequential growth in order bookings in Q3 of this fiscal and this was the highest in the last three quarters. Wipro, seen many top-level executives exit in 2023, during Q3 earnings call, said the company is seeing consulting, especially Capco and Rizing, play a big role in the complex deals that they are winning in the market.

Maruti's PAT up 33% at ₹3,130 crore

NEW DELHI: Beating street estimates, the country's largest carmaker Maruti Suzuki (MSIL) on Wednesday reported a 33% year-on-year jump in its net profit at ₹3,130 crore for the quarter ended on December 31, 2023. The surge in profit is attributed to softening commodity prices and a rise in sales of higher-margin sport utility vehicles (SUVs). ENS

Tata Steel may invest in UK plant

NEW DELHI: Tata Steel would consider additional investments in its Port Talbot plant in the UK, if more government funding was made available, its CEO T V Narendran said on Wednesday. The UK government has agreed to a 500 mn pound to support the loss-making steel plant which was facing shutdown over high carbon emission. ENS

K'taka govt, Wistron ink MoU for laptop unit

ENS @Bengaluru

WISTRON (ICT Service Management Solutions) on Wednesday signed an MoU with the Karnataka Government to set up a laptop manufacturing plant in the state.

Industries Minister MB Patil said the Taiwan-based company would invest Rs 1,500 crore, which could create jobs for 3,000 people. The minister said the company has sought 32 acres of land for the proposed project, and the government is considering providing the required land near Bengaluru.

The company plans to commence work related to setting up of the plant in July 2024, and to start manufacturing laptops by January 2026, said a statement. Patil said it is going to be a first-of-its-kind unit to manufacture laptops in the state. The unit, aligned to Industry 4.0 standards, with a fully automated facility, would make laptops for all brands and over 50% of the output would be exported. The plant would produce IoT components and EV-related parts too, the statement added.

Burman family increases 4% stake in Religare to 25.2% after CCI clearance

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

A week after receiving clearance from the Competition Commission of India (CCI), the Burman family has increased its holding in Religare Enterprises Ltd (REL) by 4% to 25.18% even as they continue to face takeover opposition from the current board of the diversified financial company.

The Burmans would now launch the much anticipated open offer to raise its shareholding above 50%. "We are happy to inform that we have increased our stake to 25.18% in Religare Enterprises Limited (REL). We reiterate our commitment towards the acquisition of REL. We now eagerly await the remaining approvals necessary to consummate the Open Offer and look forward to co-operation by the REL Board," said Mohit Burman, member, Burman family.

We eagerly await the remaining approvals necessary to consummate the open offer and look forward to co-operation by the REL Boardm

Mohit Burman of Burman family

Shares of REL went up by 9% intra-day post the transaction. It closed Wednesday session 5% up at ₹237. Last week anti-trust body Competition Commission of India (CCI) gave its approval for the acquisition of a 5.27% stake in REL by four firms controlled by the Burman family. CCI gave its nod to the Burmans for the follow-up open offer to buy up to another 26% in REL and take its holding to up to 53.94%.

The Burman family, the promoter of Dabur, had in September announced a ₹2,116 crore open offer to acquire up to 26% additional stake in REL. Since the announcement, the Burman family and senior board members of Religare, led by chairperson Rashmi Saluja, have levelled serious accusations against each other.

SPUR RESEARCH AND INNOVATION-LED ECONOMIC GROWTH

BUDGET WISH LIST

KIRAN MAZUMDAR-SHAW
Executive Chairperson, Biocon and Biocon Biologics

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman is all set to present the Interim Budget for 2024-25. The economic context in which it is being presented is encouraging. Despite global volatility between 2020 and 2023, India's GDP grew 7.2 percent in 2022-23, making us one of the fastest growing major economies in the world. Good macroeconomic fundamentals—as reflected in a stable rupee, slow but steady growth in merchandise exports and controlled inflation—are expected to translate into a projected 7.3 percent economic growth in 2023-24. In contrast, the global economy's growth is projected at 2.4 percent in 2024 amid geopolitical tensions, trade protectionism and supply chain issues.

In this Budget, India Inc is anticipating a series of announcements aimed at boosting consumption, policy reforms to encourage domestic manufacturing, and an increase in infrastructure spending. As a key stakeholder in the pharma and biopharmaceuticals industry, I would like this Budget to focus on research and innovation-led economic growth.

Labelled the 'Pharmacy of the World', India caters to 20 percent of the global supply of generic drugs and provides 60 percent of the world's low-cost vaccines and 80 percent of antiretroviral drugs. In 2023, the Indian pharmaceuticals industry generated about $50 billion.

To reach its aspirational target of $120-130 billion by 2030, the industry needs to achieve a 13-15 percent compounded annual growth rate. To propel itself to a higher growth trajectory, the industry will have to move up the value chain and emerge as a global hub for pharmaceuticals and life sciences innovation. Currently, India is ranked third in global pharma production by volume, but 14th by value.

Spur investment through NRF

The government has exhibited great foresight in passing legislation to set up the Anusandhan National Research Foundation (NRF) for seeding, growing and promoting research and innovation in India through a ₹50,000-crore fund, of which about 80 percent is envisaged to come from the private sector.

To realise the potential of the NRF, I look forward to the finance minister decoupling it from private sector investments, especially when it comes to boosting spending in academic research. The government needs to take lead in investing robustly in promoting basic research at our colleges, universities and R&D-led academic institutions to ensure that it translates into high-value applied research.

The government can lean on the private sector for funding 'moonshot' projects, where industry will need to play a major role in promoting pharmaceutical research and innovation through centres of excellence. NRF funding can go towards sponsoring industry-academic partnerships in moonshot areas.

Reinstate tax cut on R&D

There are steep scientific, technical and regulatory bars to developing new and advanced therapies, making it a challenging, time-consuming and expensive proposition. Considering this, the government should reinstate the weighted tax cut on R&D expense, which was available till March 31, 2020.

It should consider offering 200 percent weighted tax deductions on all R&D expenses, including capital expenditures by both in-house and outsourced R&D setups (including contract research and development organisations). The reinstatement of this tax incentive was also recommended by the Parliamentary Committee on Commerce in 2021. The weighted deduction should also allow for costs incurred in training, nurturing and skill development of R&D talent.

Further, the government should waive GST on proprietary drugs to provide financial impetus to new drug innovation in the country.

Recalibrate patent box regime

The scope of the current Patent Box regime under Section 115BBF is limited to a concessional tax rate of 10 percent on royalty income. The scope of this section should be extended to cover all forms of income generated from the patents, such as income from manufacturing and licensing of such patented products. The income from exploitation of intellectual property registered overseas whose exclusive license is with Indian companies should also be eligible for the concessional tax rate. Moreover, the recommendation is to shift from the current gross basis of taxation to a net basis, allowing for deductions of R&D expenses when calculating taxable income.

In addition to incentivising R&D, my wish list for this year's Budget includes impetus to manufacturing and digital transformation initiatives, which can transform India into a global pharmaceutical innovation hub.

Lower supply chain GST rates

Currently, APIs or active pharmaceutical ingredients are taxed at a higher 18 percent rate of GST and formulations at the lower rate of 12 percent. Even as there is a provision of input tax credit, there are possibilities of inordinate delays in getting the refund. So, the government must consider bringing the entire supply chain under the lower rate of 12 percent to effectively deal with the issue of credit accumulation.

Extend tax holiday for SEZ

India is planning to transform its special economic zones (SEZs) into domestic-focused industrial hubs, shifting the emphasis from exports to bolstering manufacturing for the local market. A tax holiday under the SEZ regime was available for units that had obtained relevant approvals on or before March 31, 2020. It is recommended that these benefits be extended to units set up till March 31, 2025 to enable SEZs to achieve the broader economic goals such as promoting manufacturing and generating employment.

The government should consider extending the benefits under the RoDTEP (Remission of Duties and Taxes on Exported Products) scheme to SEZ units as well. Without such incentives, SEZs would lose their competitive edge.

Incentivise digital transformation

India Inc is implementing various initiatives related to digital transformation to remain globally competitive in a fast-changing world where technology is pervasive.

To get corporates to invest more in adopting Industry 4.0 tools such as AI, machine learning, Big Data and automation, the government should consider providing incentives such as weighted deduction on spending in digital transformation initiatives or certain GST exemptions.

To propel innovation and establish the Indian pharma and biopharma industry on a global scale, there is a need to offer fiscal incentives, implement supportive policies and develop essential infrastructure. A forward-looking Budget that supports research-led breakthrough advancements in science and technology will signal the government's commitment to its long-term vision of building a robust Indian economy.

Jan GST revenue up 10.4% to ₹1.72L cr, 2nd highest monthly collection in FY24

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE gross GST revenue collection in January stood at ₹1.72 lakh crore, reflecting a 10.4% year-on-year growth compared to ₹1.55 lakh crore collected in January 2023, according to the government data.

This marks the second highest monthly collection ever and the third month in the current financial year with a collection of ₹1.70 lakh crore or more.

From the IGST collection, the government has settled ₹43,552 crore to CGST and ₹37,257 crore to SGST. From April 2023 to January 2024, the cumulative gross GST collection saw an 11.6% year-on-year growth, reaching ₹16.69 lakh crore, in contrast to ₹14.96 lakh crore collected in the same period of the previous year (April 2022-January 2023).

The average monthly GST collection in the first 10 months of the financial year has been ₹1.67 lakh crore, which is ₹17,000 higher than the average monthly collection of ₹1.5 lakh in 2022-23.

Manish Mishra, Partner, JSA Advocates and Solicitors said, "Robust GST collections for January 2024 are an indicator of healthy economic growth. The fact that it is the second highest collection in a month since introduction of GST, is attributable to increased collection efforts on part of the authorities coupled with the fact that a lot of notices issued to the asessees have been adjudicated and demands have been confirmed and realised."

"One expects that this buoyancy in tax collections will continue in near future as well due to economy firing on all cylinders and increased recovery efforts by the authorities close to the end of the financial year," Mishra added. As per Vivek Jalan, Partner, Tax Connect Advisory, GST collections have been consistently rising and have almost doubled from an average of around 0.85 lakh crore in FY 17-18 to around than ₹16.5 lakh crore in FY24.

Core sector slows, fiscal deficit hits 55% of target

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

EIGHT core sector industries grew at the slowest pace of 3.8% in December on a year-on-year basis in past 14 months, as per commerce ministry data.

Except crude oil, all the remaining sectors witnessed positive growth with coal recording the highest growth at 10.6%, followed by natural gas at 6.6%, steel at 5.9% and fertilizers at 5.38%. Electricity, cement and refinery products saw a marginal growth of 0.6%, 1.3% and 2.6% respectively, while oil witnessed a drop of 1%. During first nine months of FY24, fiscal deficit was ₹9.82 trillion, which is 55% of the estimated ₹17.87 trillion for the year. Total receipts during this period amounted to ₹20.72 trillion, 76.3% of the annual estimate.

Shah reappointed as ACC chairperson

Indian Cricket Board (BCCI) secretary Jay Shah was appointed as the president of the Asian Cricket Council for a third consecutive term. Shah's extension was proposed by the Sri Lanka Cricket president Shammi Silva and the nomination was unanimously backed by all the members of the ACC at its annual general meeting in Bali.

IMITATION GAME: INDIA'S PLAN B

India's training ahead of second Test seem to be dominated by sweeps & reverse sweeps

India players during a training session in Visakhapatnam on Wednesday | PTI

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Visakhapatnam

THE YSR ACA-VDCA cricket stadium is away from the city's commercial headquarters. In fact, the distance hits you as soon as you lose internet connectivity on your smart phone. You have left behind the buildings and a reserve area (Kambalakonda Wildlife Sanctuary).

The roads, though, are broad as you are on NH 16, part of the Golden Quadrilateral. A small shopping mall has come up bang outside the Stadium. Next to it, a real estate company has put up billboards to sell residential flats around the area. It's not quite in the middle of nowhere but it's far away from the chaos one usually associates with Indian cities.

The serenity only adds during England's training session on Wednesday morning. With a small mountain range part of the impressive backdrop, the visitors' nets passed by without incident (Jack Leach was present but didn't bowl). Yes, more sweep shots were played. However, if imitation is the best form of flattery, the English team will consider themselves very flattered. Kuldeep Yadav, the first of the India's 16 players to hit the nets in the afternoon, swept and reverse swept. By the time the last player (Sarfaraz Khan) came out to bat at the practice facility, multiple batters had borrowed from the tourists' Hyderabad playbook of sweeping and reverse-sweeping. Rohit Sharma. KS Bharat. Rajat Patidar. Shubman Gill. Shreyas Iyer. You name a player and they either swept, reverse swept or practiced both shots on another strip that's likely to 'turn'. At least that was what batting coach, Vikram Rathour, felt when addressing the press. That the strip to be used for the Test was covered as early as 10.00 AM is an indication of how hot the conditions are in this part of India this early in the year. In Hyderabad, the ground staff had the deck uncovered two days out. As the sun was less harsh, they didn't think they were exposing the pitch prematurely. Here, they didn't want to take such chances.

If it's going to be a similar track to the one at Hyderabad, the sweep could be an effective stroke to put the spinners off their lines. However, like Rathour said, it cannot be added to a batter's arsenal just by practicing it a few days. "You need to be prepared for that by practicing it," the former India opener said. "If you add more shots to your game, it's always beneficial. (Our) strength is going straight when it comes to using our feet. We can keep doing that. Of course, if we can add more shots and score through the square of the wicket, that's always an addition."

Just because several batters employed the sweep shot two days out from the second match, correlation doesn't have to imply causation. They may well just be looking at their comfort levels when essaying that shot. And considering both R Ashwin and Axar Patel were bowling, it may well have been to give both spinners an opportunity to practice against batters who rely on the sweep.

But the sweep can be a safe option on surfaces where the bounce isn't too much. Both Joe Root and Ollie Pope said as much in Hyderabad. A third English batter — Zak Crawley — echoed similar sentiments when he spoke to the media on Wednesday. "I think sweeping and reverse sweeping when it's spinning is a good option," he said. "It takes the spin out of plan. I think the reverse sweep is more common for us, because there's less field in there. They always seem to have two men out on the legside. If they had two men out on the other side, we'd probably play the sweep... the reverse sweep comes probably just as naturally to us as the normal sweep," he added.

Selection headache as hosts look to turn tide

> They are superb players. We have seen how well they have done in domestic cricket in the last few years. So on these kinds of wickets, they can really add a lot of value to the team. If we have to pick one then it's of course going to be tough but that's a decision which Rahul Dravid and Rohit Sharma will have to make in a day or so.
>
> — Vikram Rathour when speaking about Patidar and Sarfaraz

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Visakhapatnam

AS soon as Vikram Rathour settled into his chair inside the press conference room on Wednesday, he was asked about the values that Rajat Patidar and Sarfaraz Khan bring to the team. Less than an hour later, when the hosts started trickling in to part in a training session, one thing became apparent. While this may be a side that's devoid of experience (Joe Root has more Test runs than the entirety of India's 16-man squad for this game), the management do have a lots of options.

Like-for-like

This one is more of a left-field choice as Kuldeep Yadav may not play under such an arrangement. The injured Ravindra Jadeja will be replaced by Washington Sundar while Patidar will deputise for KL Rahul. The most likely changes, barring any XIth hour fitness concerns are likely to be Patidar and Kuldeep for the outgoing Rahul and Jadeja.

Four spinners in line-up

Mohammed Siraj ended up bowling only 11 overs and ended up conceding 50 without picking up a wicket. If they up down this route, apart from Patidar and Kuldeep coming in for Rahul and Jadeja, Washinton gets to play in place of Siraj. That would essentially mean R Ashwin, Axar Patel, Kuldeep and Washington in the line-up with Jasprit Bumrah as the lone pacer.

India batter Sarfaraz Khan during the training session on Wednesday | BCCI

Patidar & Sarfaraz

Another avenue for the selectors is to give debuts to as many two specialist batters in the top five. By seniority, Rajat — who was with the squad in the first Test — should be the first cab off the rank. He's odds on to come in place of Rahul. But if the management so desired, there's a place for both Patidar and Sarfaraz, with the former coming in place of Siraj. But this is unlikely to happen as the hosts would then go into the match with only four bowling options.

Gill, Shreyas considerations

What Rahul and Jadeja's withdrawals have meant is that they have essentially rubber-stamped Gill's place in the XI. It's also likely that Gill will play at one-drop but after that, it's a case of Russian Roulette. Shreyas Iyer may be the man at No. 4 but nobody can say with any certainty. Patidar, whose only previous match for India came in an ODI late last year, could slot in at No. 5.

State of play for visitors

With Jack Leach ruled out, there is a high chance that Shoaib Bashir might debut. Bashir, who landed in Hyderabad on the last day, is a tall offie and could be another x-factor. Should England choose to go with two pacers, they still have the squad to do that with James Anderson in waiting.

Curtains on Khelo Games

ENS @ Chennai

SONG, dance and music marked the closing of the 6th Khelo India Youth Games 2023 here on Wednesday. The valedictory function began in a grand manner with artists showcasing dance forms of various states — bharatanatyam, Odissi and Kathakali. The Games was inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, where about 5500 athletes from 36 states and Union Territories took part.

The event was held across four cities in Tamil Nadu — Chennai, Coimbatore, Madurai and Trichy. Hosts bagged the second place with 98 medals, Maharashtra secured the top spot with 158 and Haryana came third.

Union Sports Minister Anurag Thakur, who was the chief guest at the closing ceremony, lauded the athletes for their perseverance. "In the past ten days, not only Chennai but the entire nation witnessed history unfolding. The resilience, and determination exhibited by each athlete have filled us with an overwhelming sense of pride and optimism for the future of sports in our great nation. This edition of the Games holds a unique significance as it marks the first occasion the games have been hosted in the southern state," said Thakur.

"I extend my heartfelt congratulations to the Government of Tamil Nadu for organizing such a remarkable, successful event and ensuring seamless coordination. PM in his speech at the opening ceremony envisioned that India will become the next sporting superpower in the world. And every passing day is a testament to this transformation." added Thakur.

Udhayanidhi Stalin, TN Minister for Youth Welfare and Sports Development was pleased with the way Khelo Games was organised and complimented all the athletes who participated and in particular the medals winners for making the Games a success.

"The success of KIYG reaffirms Tamil Nadu's commitment to sports and its capability to successfully organize and execute grand events of national and international significance. Over the past 13 days, our state has been proud to host over 5400 plus athletes from across the country showcasing their sporting skills and various disciplines. This is the first time Tamil Nadu stands in top three in the medal tally in the history of the KIYG," said Udhayanidhi Stalin.

Best-ever finish for TN

ENS @ Chennai

HOSTS Tamil Nadu finished the Khelo India Youth Games 2023 campaign on a high, securing both singles gold medals in tennis and a gold in swimming as they came second behind Maharashtra in the overall medals tally.

In what was their best-ever show at the games, Tamil Nadu won 98 medals, including 38 gold. Rethin Pranav RS bagged the day's first gold at the SDAT Tennis stadium when his opponent Cahir Warik retired while trailing 6-2, 3-0 in the final. MR Revathi then ensured that TN won all the four tennis gold on offer with a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Laxmi Siri Dandu of Telangana.

Arsenal win, close gap with Liverpool

AGENCIES @ London

WITH one team scoring after just 18 seconds and another after 21 seconds, the Premier League made an explosive return Tuesday following the competition's short winter break. Arsenal left it much later for its goals in a win that kept the pressure on Liverpool at the top.

Just when it looked like being another frustrating match for Arsenal's often-profligate attack, Gabriel Jesus and Bukayo Saka scored in the second half to help the team beat Nottingham Forest 2-1, jump into second place and trim the gap to first-place Liverpool to two points. Arsenal might be able to maintain a title push heading into the final months of the campaign, but can Aston Villa? Unai Emery's team has been the big surprise this season but a 3-1 loss at home to Newcastle slowed its bid for a finish in the Champions League places, with Villa staying in fourth place.

There were five games in total and 16 goals scored, three of them coming for Luton striker Elijah Adebayo in a 4-0 thrashing of Brighton that lifted his team out of the relegation zone.

Hartley rewarded for attacking mindset: Raju

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

FORMER India left-arm spinner and former national selector Venkatapathy believes that debutant Tom Hartley, who took seven wickets against India in Hyderabad, adapted beautifully in the second innings after reading the surface better. "Left-arm spinners are unique. The variations, the arc, the angles and their ability to turn the ball away from the batters makes them unique," Raju told this daily. "Hartley was absolutely brilliant in the second innings. In the first innings against India, he conceded more than 100 runs for his two wickets. He learnt from the mistakes, adjusted his bowling in the second innings and was rewarded. Since it was his debut he took a while to learn about the wicket. Once he got to do that he was a lot quicker in the second innings, brought about subtle variations and worked on his angles," pointed out Raju.

The former India spinner attributed Hartley's success to his positive mindset and specific plans for each batter. "The beauty is that Hartley with a positive mind set went for wickets and he was successful. He had specific plans on how to bowl to each and every India batter. The way he foxed Siraj by spinning the ball away from the right-hander when India were within an arm's distance of a victory, showed his presence of mind and confidence," opined Raju.

With Kohli unavailable and KL Rahul, Ravindra Jadeja injured, India are short on experience for the second Test. "It is unfortunate. This gives an opportunity for the rest to prove a point. The likes of Sarfaraz Khan have been included. The final XI is the prerogative of the team management. Having said that, Sarfaraz has scored heavily in domestic cricket. It is up to them (team think tank) to see the wicket and conditions and pick the best XI," insisted the former Hyderabad captain.

At Visakhapatnam, England will once again expect Hartley to do an encore, as most of the wickets on this tour are expected to be spinner friendly.

Aisam likely to play singles

AGENCIES @Islamabad

AISAM UL-QURESHI, Pakistan's most successful tennis player, does not play singles on the ATP Tour, but when national duty demands it, he willingly takes up the responsibility, and the Indian team might have to contend with him on the opening day of the Davis Cup World Group I tie, starting Saturday.

The opening day will feature in two singles, and Aisam could play in one of those against either Ramkumar Ramanathan or N Sriram Balaji. Aisam has 41-22 win-loss record in singles in 48 matches he has played in 44 nominations.

Vishnu 1st Indian sailor to confirm Oly quota

KALYANI MANGALE @ Chennai

AFTER the historic bronze at the Asian Games, Vishnu Saravanan became the first Indian sailor to confirm the quota in the Paris Olympics at the Men's World Championship. The 27-year-old secured the qualification as he finished 26th amongst 152 sailors in the ILCA (International Laser Class Association) 7 class. With seven quotas up for grabs at the Championship in Adelaide, the sailor from Mumbai confirmed his ticket to Paris 2024.

What makes this achievement even more special is that this is the first time any Indian sailor has qualified for the Olympics via the World Championship. "It is a wonderful feeling. This is the first time our sailor has qualified while competing in the World Championship, which is a big deal," Captain Jitendra Dixit, joint secretary general of the Yachting Association of India, told this daily. "Vishnu is the first sailor to get the qualification for two Olympics in India, which is a huge achievement in itself. It is a proud moment for all of us."

"For the Tokyo Olympics, the qualification came through the Asian Continental qualification. That was only Asian countries, now athletes from all over the world were part of this competition. Veterans say that the World Championships are more difficult than the Olympics. In the Olympics, only one sailor from a country participates, but in the World Championship, the top nations send multiple sailors. That makes it a great achievement," he added. Vishnu, Army Subedar, who practices at the Army Yachting Node in Mumbai, secured the top rank among Asian countries, surpassing gold medallists from Singapore in the Asian Games and medal winners from Hong Kong and Thailand in the Continental Qualifiers. He was part of the gold fleet, which included the Top 50 sailors from the ILCA 7 class. In the initial days of the tournament, all the sailors in the class are divided into three fleets based on their performance - gold, silver, and bronze. The top sailors who made it to the gold fleet competed among themselves for the remaining races. He concluded the competition with an overall score of 174. Following the standard rule, his least score of 49 in a race was subtracted, resulting in a net score of 125.

Indian sailor Vishnu Saravanan

With this achievement, the gradual success of Indian sailing has unlocked another milestone and Dixit believes the Olympic qualification via the Worlds is one of the proudest moments. The Olympics are still six months away, and India would hope to snatch a medal in sailing, but for now, Vishnu has created a history, that everyone can applaud.

KOLKATA'S HOME-MUSEUM TRAIL...

The best way to start a cultural pilgrimage in the City of Joy is by visiting these restored homes dotted across the urban landscape...

PRATTUSA MALLIK

WHEN we talk about the culture of Bengal, what most of us essentially connote is an intellectual lineage that originated from the late 18th century to the early 20th century colonial-ruled Kolkata. The artistic, cultural, social and intellectual paradigm shift that took place in the region during this time is often referred to as the Bengal Renaissance. And oaring the tumultuous waters were personalities like Rabindranath Tagore, who have become almost synonymous with the culture of the region. If you too are half-enchanted and half-curious about that era, here's something you can do the next time you are in the City of Joy. Over the last decade, several of the ancestral homes of these intellectuals have been restored as museums and opened for visitors. If you are a history buff, these places will surely appeal to you. If not, you can simply visit them to take in the graceful colonial-period fusion architecture. As religious pilgrimages in the country grow more and more popular, perhaps this is a good time to begin a trend of literary or cultural pilgrimages in India? Here are the ancestral houses-turned-museums of three such Bengali icons that you must visit.

JORASANKO THAKUR BARI

Before you judge us for suggesting such an obvious option, let us tell you why you cannot skip this even if you have visited Shantiniketan. Tucked away in a quiet corner of the otherwise buzzing College Street and surrounded by trees like Spanish Cherry and Yellow Saraca, this ancestral house of Nobel laureate Rabindranath Tagore has been restored to reflect the way it looked when the Tagore family lived in it. Officially known as the Tagore Museum, it offers knowledge about the history of not only the poet but his family members in detail, including their role in the Bengal Renaissance, which was pivotal. The house — with its architecture style typical of the colonial period — is made of beautiful red bricks and painted white in places. The space has several libraries, with one of them featuring artworks from the Bengal School of Art founded by Abanindranath Tagore. Don't miss checking out mementos from Rabindranath's visits to countries — like China, Hungary, Italy, Japan and the US — which might surprise you revealing how interesting the poet's relations with these countries were. Nearest metro station: Girish Park Metro Station. Nearest Bus stand: Vivekananda Road.

VIVEKANANDA MUSEUM

Swami Vivekananda was born at Simla Pally — one of the oldest neighbourhoods in North Kolkata. The palatial house he was born in, built by his grandfather Rammohan Datta, is more than 300 years old. In 2004, the house was opened to the public after being restored by the Ramakrishna Mission. The materials used for restoration were similar to those used during the 18th century construction. This resulted in a house bathed in white marble with intricate designs. The space envelops you with its serenity the moment you enter. It houses a beautiful shrine on the terrace to mark the place where Vivekananda was born, the thakur dalan (place of worship and the adjoining courtyard) and its 36 rooms. The small Vireshwar Shiva temple is believed to be the place where Vivekananda's mother had prayed for a son, eventually getting her wish fulfilled. A lot of people come here for a brief meditation or prayer, believing their dreams will come true. The museum is also designed to make the visitors aware of major milestones of Vivekananda's life. Nearest metro station: Girish Park Metro Station. Nearest Bus stand: Vivekananda Road.

NETAJI BHAWAN

Built by his father in 1909, this house was where Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose lived most of his life in Kolkata. Now, it includes archives, a museum and a library. Aesthetes will love the yellow facades, green windows and the red flooring that comes with the art-deco houses of that time. The moment you enter the space, you see the black German Wanderer Sedan that Netaji used to flee in disguise during the 'great escape' from his house arrest in 1941. And from relics of Netaji's footprints to the letters that he wrote while in hiding — the museum will appeal to anyone interested in Indian history. Nearest metro station: Rabindra Sadan. Nearest Bus stand: Elgin Road.

DAY'S DIARY

Space shuttle explodes

In 2003, the US space shuttle Columbia carrying seven astronauts, including Kalpana Chawla, exploded in its descent back to Earth

AN UNEXPECTED TURN

They prepared for their return after a 16-day mission, having carried out 80 experiments. A booster failure caused an explosion that destroyed the vehicle

THE TRAGEDY

The shuttle broke up 2,03,000 feet over north central Texas about 9 am EST, as it prepared for a landing at Kennedy Space Center in Florida

A MEMORIAL

NASA and the crew's families created a memorial to honour the astronauts, pay tribute to orbiters Challenger and Columbia, and learn from the past

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

Investment in job creation, reduced import duties on sports equipment, and due recognition to the F&B industry...Ahead of the Interim Union Budget today, Dese Gowda speaks to Bengalureans, who share their thoughts

ANAND VARADARAJ, director, Bangalore International Short Film Festival

Investing in skill development for the cinema industry will be a wise decision. Such programmes can help individuals acquire the necessary skills and knowledge to work in the industry. This can lead to better job opportunities, higher salaries, and a more skilled workforce. Moreover, investing in skill development can help the cinema industry compete globally. The government could also consider starting more Film and Television Institutes of India (FTII) in different parts of the country, similar to the Indian Institutes of Management (IIM) and Indian Institutes of Technology (IIT). Starting more FTIIs can help aspiring filmmakers and technicians from different regions get access to quality education. This can help the industry grow and create more jobs for people across the country.

ANIRUDH KHENY, managing partner, Keen Mustard Ventures

The centre needs to classify the F&B industry as a legitimate industry and give them due recognition. GST input credit should also be given while the increase of GST from 5 per cent to 12 per cent should be removed. They should also enable single-window clearance for all licences and clearly define the rules and laws in relation to the F&B industry.

CHETAN SHIVRAM, racer

I hope they consider reducing prohibitive tariffs on sports equipment being imported from abroad. For instance, for any part that we import for a racing car, we'd have to pay up to 180 per cent in import cess, which makes it prohibitively expensive for aspirants to take part in the sport. As motorsports gain prominence in the country, this measure could further help promote more racing talent to take various disciplines of motorsports.

HARISH BIJOOR, brand thinker

The world is a tough place. Global growth in GDP terms stands at 2.4 per cent. Likely to be down by 0.2 per cent over last year. In this situation, the developing economies of the world are slated to grow at 3.9 per cent. If India grows at 6.5 per cent in this situation, it will be a big thrill factor for all of us. I am looking for this thrill factor facilitation points in Budget '24. I am looking for a budget that is correctionist. Women-centric. Green-centric. Sustainable tech-centric. And importantly, employment and employability-centric with a focus on skill development.

MOHAMMED BAZIM S, student

As an individual about to step into the workforce soon, I hope there are initiatives and resources allocated to boost the country's job sector. I also hope that there is priority given to align the country's growth with recent technological developments in AI as well.

ASHISH SINGHAL, co-founder, PeepalCo

Tax provisions for Virtual Digital Assets (VDA) were introduced two years ago. While the industry welcomed the definition and inclusion of VDAs in the Income Tax Act, certain provisions, such as the high Tax Deducted at Source (TDS) rate have led many Indian VDA users to move to non-compliant foreign exchanges to trade, putting themselves at risk of losing their investment and breaking the law. The government could consider reducing the TDS on VDAs, from 1 per cent to 0.01 per cent, allow carrying forward losses from sale of VDAs and treat income from VDAs on par with other capital assets.

Former foreign secretary Nirupama Menon Rao's upcoming concert in the city promises celebration of a life that bridges many worlds with the universal language of music

Mosaic of Melodies

POOJA DAS

MUSIC knows no barriers. Whether it's the rhythm of a drum echoing from a remote village or a symphony performed in a grand concert hall, music has the ability to connect individuals from different backgrounds.

Diplomat-musician Nirupama Menon Rao's upcoming concert Many World: Many Voices celebrates this unity in diversity featuring songs in English, Spanish, Bengali and Malayalam. "Music and its meaning appeal to the listener regardless of language as the very sequence of music is not deterred by linguistic barriers or competing world orders. I have chosen songs to sing in different languages because of the intrinsic appeal of these songs – they speak of fundamental human concerns, values and emotions, whether it is our love for home, the impact of days gone by or the simple gifts of friendship, love and longing," says the former foreign secretary (2009-2011).

Rao shares that her earliest memories of music trace back to the lullabies of her mother, a universal experience that transcends cultures. "As I grew up, and became aware of the wide world around me, I was attracted to both poetry and music. For those of us who grew up in the '60s and early '70s, Radio Ceylon was a big influence which introduced me to popular Hindi, Malayalam and Western music."

For Rao, there is a deep connection between music, poetry, and diplomacy – all forms of art that rely on effective communication. "All three are founded on the critical need for communication as human beings; to build bridges rather than break them, we try to accommodate what seem to be opposing ideas. In all three, we give the impression of leaving a lot unsaid, but you must read between the lines to gauge the multiple meanings," shares Rao.

The concert will feature songs in a wide array of genres from musical theatre to Rabindra Sangeet. "These songs have been a sound-track for my existence; I learnt the song Puranoshe Dineyr Katha by Rabindranath Tagore when I was a trainee officer at the National Academy of Administration in Mussoorie from a Bengali colleague. It brings back memories of the days when I was on the threshold of my career as a young diplomat," says Rao, who is also a published poet and will read from her poetry at the concert. "My work of poetry Rain Rising incorporated my fascination with my origins as the child of a matrilineal family in Kerala, and my travels across the world. When I integrate poetry and music in a concert, I do so because they speak to me in a choral manner, each voice building on the other, in point and counterpoint, and ultimately in a confluence," adds Rao.

(The performance will be staged at Bangalore International Centre, Domlur on Feb 4, 6.30pm. Entry free. Details on bangaloreinternationalcentre.org)

FIT BIT

GAJA VADIVU VARIATION

(ELEPHANT POSE VARIATION)

It is one of the ancient Indian martial art pose known as Kalaripayattu. It helps prepare the lower body for deep squat poses such as Garland Pose (Malasana Pose) and Firefly Pose (Tittibhasana). It also help runners to strengthen their legs.

STEPS

- Stand straight with your feet shoulder width apart.
- Exhale and squat. If you are unable to, then use a wall for support.
- Place your hands on a 2 feet tall chair/table and slowly bend your knees forming a right angle.
- Inhale and lift your arms up. Join your palms in Pranam Mudra.
- Make sure your upper body is parallel to the floor.
- Inhale and bring your palms together at the centre of your forehead.
- Touch your elbows together and curl your fingers in such a manner that your knuckles point upwards.
- You can also touch the tip of your thumbs to your forehead.
- Focus in between your eyebrows and stay here for 3 to 6 long breaths.
- To come out, place your palms on the floor and straighten your legs.
- Finally come into Tadasana (Mountain Pose).

BENEFITS

- Stretches the lower back, tones the mid and upper back.
- Pelvic muscles are stretched along with hip opening.
- Enhances the breath capacity and increases focus and concentration.
- Tones legs, quadriceps, glutes, spinal cord and strengthens joints.
- Helps in body balance and strength.
- Increases blood circulation and energises the body.
- Stimulation of the spine is extended and sacral organs are nurtured.
- Muladhara (Root), Swadhisthana (Sacral) and Manipura (Solar Plexus) are activated.
- Calms the nervous system.

LIMITATIONS

People with injuries in the shoulders, knees, hamstrings, quadriceps, calves, gluteus, pelvic floor, biceps and triceps, chest, groin, etc., or have undergone surgery to hip, spine, shoulder, or knee, have weak joints, abdominal hernia, postnatal women, should avoid this pose.

MANAGING THE BIG C

With World Cancer Day on Feb 4, CE looks at the improvement in cancer management

DR AMIT RAUTHAN

THE focus on cancer care has seen a significant shift and is now looking towards precision oncology instead of traditional approaches, such as chemotherapy. Precision oncology, as the name suggests, is a more targeted and precise methodology for managing cancer.

Precision Oncology or Targeted Therapy: Conventionally, chemotherapy has been the mainstay of treatment for several cancers. But chemotherapy is not cancer-cell specific. It kills both cancer and healthy cells, leading to side effects. This prompted researchers to shift their focus toward precise treatment modalities that could target cancer cells by inhibiting molecular pathways and this led to the emergence of precision oncology.

Lung Cancer as a Pioneer in Targeted Therapy: The identification of the epidermal growth factor receptor (EGFR) mutation in non-small cell lung cancer (NSCLC) and the discovery that EGFR-mutant patients benefited from oral medications that targeted this particular pathway more than conventional chemotherapy, paved the way for targeted therapy. With advancements in molecular oncology, various lung cancer subtypes can be treated with targeted therapies.

Defining precision oncology: In simple words, Precision Oncology means every cancer is diverse, even in the same broad type of cancer, for example, in lung cancer, no two patients have the same disease course or presentation. Hence, their treatment should also be different. Treatment focus should be based on tumour biology such as the subtype, individual driving factor (or genomic alteration) and treated specifically.

Newer advances in cancer management: The challenge in molecular oncology is identifying the driver mutations or abnormalities that drive cancer growth. Molecular profiling and next-generation sequencing has given us this ability to these genomic abnormalities. Here, a biopsy sample from the tumour is subjected to gene sequencing to reveal genomic abnormalities and mutations responsible for tumour growth and progression. This information is then used by oncologists to tailor treatment plans and target specific molecular pathways. This strategy of precision oncology is now becoming important in other cancers – like colon, breast, cholangiocarcinoma bladder, ovary and prostate cancer.

The development of precision oncology signifies a significant change in the way cancer is treated. By focusing on identifying certain molecular targets, more individualised and efficient treatments can be provided, leading to better patient outcomes and quality of life. The future of cancer care is being shaped by increasing usage of targeted therapies, which gives patients new opportunities of treatment and hope.

'SUNI'S OSPK NECESSITATED A MUSICAL LANDSCAPE'

A SHARADHAA

SUNI'S Ondu Sarala Prema Kathe, a musical romantic-drama, and all eyes are on the composer Veer Samarth. With a contribution of 8 songs and three bits for the film, some presented as full-length tunes, and others seamlessly blending with the narrative, it's not just about numbers; it's a musical journey encompassing ghazal, sufi, duet, melody, devotional, and even a rap version.

According to the composer, these diverse tones resonate with the moods of Ondu Sarala Prema Kathe, travelling with the film. "Vinay Rajkumar, the hero portraying the role of an aspiring music composer Athishay, and one of the film's heroines, Mallika Singh, as singer by name, Madhura, necessitated this extensive array of songs, setting the perfect cinematic mood," says Veer Samarth. "Music plays a crucial role in the hero's journey, and we had to give it the importance it deserves more of a musical landscape," explains the composer.

Veer Samarth, with a portfolio of over 40 films, expresses how his musical background and experience contribute to the film's musical love journey. "We also had to be authentic with the music that fits the scenes where they were shot. For example, there is a 10-minute scene captured in Rajasthan, and we went with a folk tune matching the nativity. Likewise, an episode set in Mumbai required a song that complemented the setting," explains Veer Samarth, adding, "Even though the film boasts 8 songs and additional bits, the emphasis is not on quantity but on the thoughtful crafting of each track. Contrary to the notion that every song is a lengthy 5-minute piece, they are intricately designed to seamlessly integrate with the narrative, accompanying diverse characters, and synchronizing with Suni's screenplay."

With Swathishta Krishnan playing one of the leads, the film, produced by Ramesh, also features Sadhu Kokila and Aruna Balaraj in pivotal roles. Adding to the uniqueness, Suni introduces a new cinematographer, editor, and singer in Ondu Sarala Prema Kathe. Karthik, who has assisted DoP William David in films like Vikrant Rona, marks his debut as a cinematographer. Aditya Krishnan, previously an editor for a production house, is now associated as an editor for this film. Shivani Swamy, an Indian Idol contestant, has sung a song in the film.

Team Kreem

Kreem offers a riveting glimpse through its visual trailer

CE FEATURES

TEAM Kreem, having completed shooting and gearing up for release, has unveiled the film's trailer. Agni Sreedhar, who has written the story, screenplay, and dialogue for Kreem, appreciated the courage displayed by director Abhishek Basanth, in addressing a societal issue in the film. He also commended Samyuktha Hegde's dedication in her portrayal and expressed gratitude to producer DK Devendra, showing confidence in the film's content.

"Kreem portrays a hidden reality that occurs in every village, state, and language in India," says Sridhar, emphasising the need for courage to make a film like this. "The story of the film addresses the reasons behind the sacrifice of thousands of women in India every year," he adds.

While producer DK Devendra expressed gratitude to Agni Shridhar for providing an excellent script, and acknowledged the stunning visuals captured by cinematographer, Sunjo Velayudhan, director Abhishek Basanth mentioned that he had been contemplating the film's subject for ten years and took up the challenge to make the film when encouraged by producer Devendra. He also mentioned that Kreem would be available for the audience soon.

Kreem's plot, completely shot in neo-noir style, examines the ritual killing of women conducted to seemingly attain wealth and power, and is still happening today.

Samyuktha expressed her excitement about playing a role she had never attempted before and acknowledged the physical challenges involved in performing action sequences.

Starring Arun Sagar, Roshan, Agni Shridhar, Bachan, and Aaron Rodriguez in pivotal roles, Kreem has Shivakumar taking care of the art department. Made under Sumvardini Productions banner, the film has music by Rohit Sower and cinematography by Sunjo Velayudhan.

Sam Hargrave to direct Kill Them All

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Sam Hargrave of Extraction fame is set to direct an adaptation of Kill Them All for Paramount Pictures. Based on the popular graphic novel by Kyle M Starks, the film will be produced by Josh Appelbaum and André Nemec on behalf of Saw Mill, with James Coyne adapting the script. The original graphic novel follows an elite female assassin who finds out she is going to be killed by her own criminal syndicate and decides to take them out first. Joining forces with an alcoholic ex-cop, she sets on a ruthless, violent attack through the 15 floors of the syndicate's headquarters.

Hargrave is also set to direct and executive produce the pilot episode of Apple TV+ drama series The Last Frontier, starring Jason Clarke and created by Jon Bokenkamp and Richard D'Ovidio. The makers are yet to finalise the cast and crew of the Kill Them All feature film adaptation.

'SUPPLIER SHANKARA IS A LITMUS TEST FOR MY JOURNEY AS A MASS HERO'

CE FEATURES

NISCHITH KORODI transitioning from the lightheartedness of Gantu Moote and Tom & Jerry is set to redefine his image as a mass hero in the upcoming release Supplier Shankara. This crime mystery, directed by Ranjith Singh Rajput, who also penned the story, screenplay, and dialogues, is scheduled to release on February 2 under the Trinetra Films banner.

Ranjith sheds light on the film's inspiration, stating that Supplier Shankara pays a tribute to the often-overlooked world of hospitality. Nischith, known for his versatility, shares his perspective on sustaining a successful acting career. He believes that venturing into diverse genres, particularly those with mass appeal, is essential for an actor's longevity in the industry. "Supplier Shankara marks my first venture into this direction," Nischith remarks. Despite falling into the murder mystery genre, he highlights that the film seamlessly weaves in elements of comedy, sentiment, love, and thrills—creating a potent blend that caters to the diverse tastes of the audience," he says.

The film presents Nischith as a bar supplier, navigating through a series of consequential events that alter the course of his life. When questioned about the key attributes required to become a mass hero, Nischith underscores the significance of possessing appeal across various facets, including dance, dialogues, and acting. "Supplier Shankara is a crucial litmus test to my growth as a mass hero," he adds.

Supplier Shankara features Deepika Adarsh in the role of a teacher, has music composed by director Bharath, and Satish Kumar handles the cinematography. ath, and Satish Kumar handles the cinematography.

'Nocturnes is as much about sound as it is about images'

NAMRATA JOSHI

NOCTURNES is immersive, experiential cinema at its most hypnotic. Breathtaking visuals and stunning sound design plant the viewer right in the middle of the universe of moths in this rare Indian entomological documentary. Filmmakers Anirban Dutta and Anupama Srinivasan follow ecologist Mansi Mungee and her assistant Bicki in their quest into the dense forests of Arunachal Pradesh to shine a light on the secret lives of moths. The intimate peep into the world of insects is juxtaposed against the overwhelming expanse of nature. There is also the tireless, laborious work and extraordinary commitment of the researchers.

In a conversation with CE, after the film's premiere at the Sundance Film Festival, Dutta and Srinivasan dwelt on what went into its making.

Excerpts:

Nocturnes* is about a unique subject—the inner lives of moths. What took you to it?

ANIRBAN: We have lived for a long time in Delhi. The sheer noise level that we experience there is cacophonic. There is a constant hum even when you listen to music at home. We've both felt that there is something very basic that has been taken away from us. We were thinking of making a film which would help us reconnect with nature and to some simple sounds like that of the water droplets or of the wind. We had a chance encounter with Mansi [Mungee] in Uttarkashi, where she told us about this incredible landscape, how she puts up these moth screens and how thousands of moths slowly come down on it.

Anirban Dutta and Anupama Srinivasan

It's a subject we don't associate Indian documentaries with...

ANUPAMA: There has been a tendency to feel that film festivals, especially in the West, will accept Indian documentaries only if they are about a very serious social issue or about somebody fighting against the corrupt system. This was also at the back of our minds—why should we, as filmmakers, feel compelled only to talk about certain issues and only in certain forms? So, in this film, we haven't followed any template. The story is very basic and simple. So, we could really get into the sound and the visual exploration in a very wonderful and detailed way.

How much did you have to travel, and how long did it take you to shoot the film?

ANIRBAN: The moth work is seasonal. It doesn't happen in winter, and it was very difficult for us to film during heavy rain. So, it was over a few trips between 2019 and 2023.

ANUPAMA: But the primary, principal photography started by the end of 2021. We followed them [Mansi, Bicki and team] wherever they went but it was all in a relatively small area of the Eaglenest Sanctuary, and the surrounding forests, in the West Kameng district of Arunachal Pradesh. A lot of it is in the community forest and some of it is in the sanctuary.

The film makes for an incredibly immersive experience. What went into its visual language and sound design?

ANIRBAN: In 2019, we went to the forest with the kind of equipment we usually take for documentary shoots—shotgun, boom microphones, lapels, etc. When we came back and heard and saw the footage, we felt what we had been hearing there was not coming across in the footage. It felt like a big loss. At that point, we started researching how to record the sound. We had a wonderful sound recordist called Sukanta Majumdar, who teaches at SRFTI (Satyajit Ray Film and Television Institute). When we went there next, we went with multiple microphones. We did hours and hours of recording. For example, in the film, when you see a transition from day to twilight to night, it is the recording of how the soundscape changes. We wanted to be true to that, and not use any stock, what we call the library sound effects. So, the thunder that you hear, the raindrops that you hear, they're all from that place. You will see more if you hear more. and if you see more, then you will hear more. This film is as much about sound as it is about images.

ANUPAMA: We were fortunate that from the very beginning, we had Satya [Rai Nagpaul] on board. Apart from being an amazing camera person, he is very interested in entomology. We didn't want to make picture postcards kind of images at all, even though the forest is so beautiful. We wanted to find another way to capture that beauty. There are many shots of the fog just shifting and changing the way we look at something. The fog played a very important part because it gave a sort of dynamism to even very quiet-looking shots.

I think a very crucial aspect was how to film the forest in a different way. One which is very meditative deep and moving, and not flashy. We decided not to go for a very shallow depth of focus in which we are isolating either the people, the moths, or any aspect of the landscape. We wanted to communicate that through our lensing. And so, we see everything in focus and for that, we needed to figure out how much light was needed to have enough depth of field. We had to do many tests to figure out these technicalities.

We did use the macro lens in some shots to get the details of the texture and the little feather and the antenna, which is such a big part of appreciating the moth.
